2 (AUDIENCE MEMBERS INTRODUCED 3 THEMSELVES)

4 MR. KOEHLER: Anybody else?

5 (NO RESPONSE.)

6 MR. KOEHLER: Thank you.

7 Dr. Lerner is going to be absent
8 for a little while this morning. He had a 9 funeral to attend, so he will join us when he 10 can.

11 Look at the agenda today. We do 12 not have minutes from August 15th. But if 13 everyone has had a chance to look at the July 14 25th minutes, we have a motion to approve for 15 any changes?

16 MS. BRESLER: I have a question.
17 Thank you.

18 In looking at these and trying to 19 do some review of some of the last few meetings 20 I noticed that -- You just referred to them as 21 "minutes," which is kind of what I thought of 22 these as. And in looking at it, they really are 23 just meeting summaries, these are not meeting 24 minutes.

1 MR. KOEHLER: That is a summary.

2 MS. BRESLER: In addition, we have a
3 court reporter here at every meeting. The last 4 meeting was a rather full discussion with many 5 votes and many numbers. And in trying to 6 prepare for this meeting, wanting to look at 7 that, I can't find the transcripts. And I am 8 wondering when and if we will have access to 9 those, and when and if there will be actual 10 meeting minutes provided. Because, obviously, 11 we are getting to a very critical point here 12 where we are being called to vote on some very 13 critical issues. And I don't feel that I have 14 enough background or detail to be able to make 15 some kind of informed decisions at this point.

16 MR. CARVALHO: You are correct that 17 what we have been approving have been -- what 18 you have been approving have been meeting
19 summaries. Because you have a transcript, we do 20 not prepare minutes. Minutes will serve the 21 same function as the transcript. So the 22 transcript serves the Open Meetings Act
23 requirement of the record of the meeting.

24 The meeting summary is provided

1 because it's less unwieldy than a transcript and 2 more convenient to someone who is just trying to 3 scan and get a summary of what occurred at the 4 meeting.

5 We prepare the meeting summaries
6 off of the transcripts, which is why sometimes 7 there is a delay in getting you the summaries, 8 because until we get the transcripts, we don't 9 prepare the summaries.

10 We have on site a copy of the 11 transcript, so we can refer back to it if there
12 is something in particular you or the Task Force 13 want reference to. The transcripts and the 14 meeting summaries as they are accumulated all go 15 up on the website as well.

16 Now, there are several 17 transcripts where there's still some issues of 18 corrections, from the prior transcription
19 service. And that's why some meetings earlier 20 in the year aren't on the website. But as of 21 now it's the summaries and the transcripts that 22 are being prepared to memorialize activity.

23 MS. BRESLER: Well, we haven't been 24 able to find the transcripts on the website. We

1 may be looking in the wrong place. So if you 2 can help us out with that, that will be great.

3 MR. CARVALHO: Some of them aren't up.

4 MS. BRESLER: We haven't been able to 5 find any.

6 MR. CARVALHO: They are there if you

8 MS. BRESLER: August 15th date.

9 MR. CARVALHO: One from August 15th.
10 In particular, there have been some questions
11 about what exactly was the motion that was made 12 towards the end of the meeting and what was the 13 roll call. I have the roll call. And then the 14 transcript should have the motion. But you 15 know, at such time that that becomes relevant 16 for discussion, we will refer to it.

17 MS. BRESLER: Okay.

18 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: Well, pertaining 19 to transcripts also, I sent an e-mail to both 20 you and Dave and Mike asking for ten copies of 21 the transcript to be available at this meeting, 22 because of the issues I had concerning the 23 motion where there was actually placement on the 24 consensus items also. And so -- and I didn't

1 get a response. So I question, you know -- I 2 wonder, if that e-mail had been received by 3 either of you. And obviously, you know, there 4 is only one copy of the transcript. I just had 5 a concern. I would like to see the transcript.

6 MR. CARVALHO: Neither of us got that 7 e-mail. Sorry.

8 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: Okay.

9 MR. KOEHLER: We do have one copy of 10 the transcript here, though, from the last 11 meeting?

12 MR. CARVALHO: Yes.

13 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: I would like to 14 see it.

15 MR. KOEHLER: Does anybody else have 16 trouble getting the transcript off the 17 website?

18 (NO RESPONSE.)

19 MR. KOEHLER: Maybe we should ask for 20 some help towards the end of the meeting 21 concerning that.

22 I misspoke at the --

23 Is there a motion to approve the 24 meeting summary of July 25th?

1 MR. SMITH: So moved.

2 MR. KOEHLER: Is there a second?

3 COMMISSIONER TROTTER: Misspelled my 4 name.

5 MR. KOEHLER: Well, we need to change
6 that.

7 SENATOR TROTTER: That's not my 8 sister. Talking about in the summary itself.

9 MR. KOEHLER: Let's make that change,
10 with our apologies, Senator. With that 11 correction made, all in favor say aye.

12 (CHORUS OF AYES.)

13 MR. KOEHLER: Any opposed?

14 (NO RESPONSE.)

15 MR. KOEHLER: All right. We are going 16 to get into the actual meat of the meeting here, 17 and that is to ask Navigant to take us through 18 what was sent to us this week.

19 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: Mr. Chair.

20 MR. KOEHLER: Yes.

21 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: I would like to --
22 I guess I would ask, and I would like to make a 23 motion to adjust the agenda. There are several 24 that were asked questions about the -- what was

1 sent to us that there was no response --
2 actually, the response was that the questions
3 would be dealt with on Tuesday. And because of 4 the short time of when we received the 5 materials, I believe it would be more 6 appropriate for those who did ask questions to 7 Navigant, and submitted questions to Navigant, 8 be given the answers to those questions first 9 before we proceed into what's scheduled to be a 10 two-hour discussion -- or presentation of a 11 model that we have been asked to digest in a 12 short period of time.

13 I think it would help with not 14 asking so many questions during the presentation
15 if those persons who submitted questions to them
16 beforehand were allowed to get those questions 17 answered first.

18 MR. KOEHLER: Who is it that submitted
19 questions?

20 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: From what I
21 understand, there were several persons that had 22 asked questions before.

23 MR. KOEHLER: Who did you receive 24 questions from?

1 MS. DAVIDSON: We received questions
2 from Mr. Duffett. And we have gone through 3 those questions. We received them last night.
4 And we have pinpointed in our presentation this 5 morning to address them as we are talking about 6 the topics so we can give the background to 7 them. Some of them involved insurance market 8 changes and some of the contractors, hopefully 9 where we can give a background leading up to 10 that answer. So that was our plan, but we can 11 adjust it.

12 MR. KOEHLER: Who else submitted
13 questions?

14 MS. DAVIDSON: We didn't receive any 15 others.

16 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: You didn't receive 17 anything else? Are we going to take two 18 hours (inaudible)?

19 MS. DAVIDSON: I think, yes. Well, we 20 can go through this per (inaudible). We were 21 kind of (inaudible) two hours instead of walk 22 through so you understand that people have been 23 trying to digest. So we wanted to make sure to 24 provide the explanation to help people do that.

1 But we are at your convenience.

2 MR. KOEHLER: Is that a right --

3 Personally I want to see a full 4 explanation, because I find it a bit confusing.
5 It may just be me.

6 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: No. I mean, if 7 those are questions that are going to be 8 answered during the presentation, that's fine.
9 But, for the record, I find it somewhat 10 disconcerting that in five weeks we got a plan 11 in five days to digest. And it seems like we 12 got a lot more material in a shorter amount of 13 time, with our last meeting. And I thought that 14 the work was less -- that we received what we 15 needed, so that leaves probably at least two 16 weeks' notice and not five days' notice.

17 So, for the record, I am
18 concerned about that, and I was just wondering 19 if our time is best being spent by once again
20 being here with material received on short 21 notice. We did this two months ago and here we 22 are at the same place again. And everyone is a 23 volunteer here and have other things that they 24 have to do. And for this to happen twice, you

1 know, as the saying goes, fool me once shame on 2 you, fool me twice shame on me. You know, I 3 just don't understand that.

4 MR. KOEHLER: Your concern is noted,
5 since this is a verbatim transcript. But I'm 6 not sure what else we can do with this at this 7 point.

8 MR. CARVALHO: Navigant was given the 9 assignment of distributing this material last 10 Wednesday by the Steering Committee, and 11 distributed the material last Wednesday. So I'm 12 not sure why you're casting aspersions on 13 Navigant's work. They did exactly what they 14 were asked to do. The Steering Committee asked 15 them to distribute the material during the 16 meeting last Wednesday.

17 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: I guess I was not 18 aware that the Steering Committee gave them the 19 okay when we have less than a week's time to 20 digest materials.

21 MR. ROBERTS: There needs to be some 22 clarification. The Steering Committee asked for 23 the first cost benefit, that Navigant make that 24 information available during that meeting. It

1 was Wednesday that we asked for it.

2 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: Thank you, Joe.

3 Thank you.

4 MR. KOEHLER: All right. Any other
5 discussion?

6 DR. YOUNG: Just a quick one.

7 Important to me. It's the use of the term 8 "consensus." The problem I have with that is 9 that we do agree to negotiations, we do it all 10 the time. And of course this is what happens, a 11 popularity contest, strong or lesser support.
12 And as we move toward transmission simply to the 13 Legislature, I think it's best to indicate 14 that's what it was, it wasn't a consensus.

15 MR. KOEHLER: We could probably 16 address that once we get ready to do the 17 signatures.

18 DR. YOUNG: Noted now. Silence might 19 give the impression of consent.

20 MR. KOEHLER: Sure. Understood.

21 MR. MURPHY: Just to echo the same 22 sentiment on consensus, I think those of us who 23 I think at this date may be numb by the fact 24 that a lot of things that we were concerned

1 about be part of this fell off the rails months
2 and months ago. So, though I would agree with 3 Dr. Quentin, I think they've come to that 4 realization more recently. We have come to that 5 realization quite sometime ago.

7 comments?

8 (NO RESPONSE.)

9 MR. KOEHLER: Let's proceed with the 10 order of the day then. We will ask Navigant to 11 take us through what they have presented.

12 Gwynn.

13 MS. DAVIDSON: What I would like to 14 start -- We are going to basically walk through 15 the materials that are in front of you. And 16 just to sort of bring us to the first step, our 17 task at the end of the last meeting was to 18 modify the hybrid model that was in front of the 19 Task Force and adjust it to concentrate on the 20 high consensus items that were identified at 21 that meeting, and then to bring in any moderate 22 consensus items to help achieve the goals of the 23 Task Force and the high consensus items. So 24 that was our focus as we looked at my final

1 hybrid.

2 And we looked at modifying it, we 3 wanted to provide as much information as 4 possible, so we broke out the results into two 5 tiers. Tier 1 essentially has -- focuses on the 6 high consensus items but does not achieve a 7 complete -- sort of a full level of coverage.
8 So we brought that in knowing that that was one 9 of the Health Care Justice Act Goals. We 10 brought in the employer assessment and the 11 individual mandate to bring up that coverage
12 level. And that's what happens in tier 2.

13 So we have -- You can view that 14 as, you know, looking at tier 1 all by itself or 15 looking at tier 2, which really encompasses tier 16 1 and tier 2.

17 We wanted you to be able to see
18 the impact of putting those policies on top of a 19 coverage approach. We thought that that might 20 be useful information for you to help make 21 decisions around.

22 Then as we were going through the 23 modifications to the hybrid, we developed an 24 option A and an option B. And basically under

1 our option A, additional coverage options are 2 presented to the uninsured population through 3 carriers in the market now.

4 We thought that it might be 5 helpful to see a lower-cost option that also 6 helps spread risk and support its safety net
7 providers. And to that goal, we developed
8 option B, which basically allows insurance 9 carriers to offer this product that is 10 subsidized by the State, to help increase 11 insurance coverage, but then also has a 12 State-insured plan that also provides that 13 premium assistance. And that does lower the 14 cost somewhat.

15 Again, we felt clearly it's up to 16 the Task Force what option to take; but we 17 wanted to present you with as many options and 18 information as possible as to how that might 19 play out.

20 And we understand that there are 21 a variety of ways to achieve the high consensus 22 goals. And we have put together these 23 recommendations sort of to our --

24 Let me move this so you can see.

1
2 (PAUSE.)

3 (Senator Iris Martinez joined 4 the proceedings.)

5 MS. DAVIDSON: May be things you would 6 like to change. There's more than one way to 7 achieve some of these goals. And we understand 8 that.

9 So on that note, if you turn to 10 page 3 of that report, you will see a table that 11 lists high, moderate and low consensus items.
12 And what we are going to do over the next hour 13 and-a-half is to walk through the components of 14 the model, walk through the graphics of this 15 report, walk through the cost and coverage 16 numbers.

17 But just to give a brief sort 18 of --

19 MR. KOEHLER: One second.

20 Does everybody have a copy?

21 MR. MURPHY: I do not have a copy.

22 MR. KOEHLER: Are there extra copies 23 of these?

24 MS. DAVIDSON: We just sort of want to

1 touch on -- and I'm going to go through this in 2 more detail at the end -- touch on how this 3 modified hybrid achieves this high consensus 4 item. And I'll just speak very briefly to some 5 very general differences between today's hybrid 6 and the hybrid presented to you on August 15th.

7 So, on the high consensus items
8 we have state-refundable tax credits and premium
9 assistance. And I am sort of jumping --

10 Well, let me just go from top to 11 bottom. Might be better.

12 We have, as we did in the 13 original hybrid, a very strong (inaudible)
14 component where we are providing premium 15 assistance to various individuals up to 16 400 percent of the federal poverty level. So 17 that's how we address that high consensus item.

18 We have Medicaid and SCHIP
19 expansions and relatable that maximizes federal 20 Medicaid funds. And we do include expansions to 21 Medicaid and SCHIP to maximize those federal 22 funds here as we had done in the original
23 hybrid.

24 Long-term care partnerships

1 recently (inaudible because of loud coughing)
2 allowed the original hybrid.

3 Strategies for spreading risk.
4 We have a variety of changes to the insurance 5 market that we think help to do that. And we 6 are going to talk through that a little bit 7 more. And we also have various ways that 8 uninsured people can obtain coverage by pooling 9 their risk.

10 For reinsurance, the original
11 hybrid did not contain a reinsurance component.
12 This one does.

13 We have included a provision
14 about adequate and timely payment to Medicaid 15 providers, and ways to address the adequate 16 supply and distribution of providers.

17 We continue to have the main
18 option available under the strategy be a 19 comprehensive commercial package. So that's how 20 we address the comprehensive benefit package.
21 And we aren't showing any reductions to the 22 current Medicaid and SCHIP packages.

23 We support employer commitment to 24 health insurance by providing premium assistance

1 in a modified hybrid. We also have a special 2 component -- a special part of the hybrid that 3 helps target small low-wage employers. And we 4 try to encourage them to take up coverage.

5 MR. ROBBINS: Do we need to wait until 6 the end --

7 MR. KOEHLER: Well, if you have a
8 question of clarification, why don't you go
9 ahead and ask it. If it's a substantial part 10 let's wait and address those again later.

11 MR. ROBBINS: Could you define
12 employee commitment -- employer commitment?
13 What is that? Is that a mandate?

14 MS. DAVIDSON: No, it is not a 15 mandate, although there is an employer
16 assessment in the second tier.

17 By employer commitment we are 18 saying we want to support employers in providing 19 health insurance to their employees.

20 And then in terms of minimizing 21 all costs not related to the direct provision of 22 health care, including administrative costs and 23 cost recovery for fraud and abuse, we have 24 brought in a variety of provisions through the 1 oversight body of this model. And we have also 2 looked at ways to reduce administrative costs

3 that we talk about in opposition B. But as well 4 as limiting -- looking at approaches to try -- 5 not eliminate, but reduce the administrative 6 cost of health insurance carriers.

7 MS. MITROFF: Did you do anything
8 about administrative costs of providers at all?

9 MS. DAVIDSON: We have providers
10 reporting their costs I believe through IHRT, 11 but we don't have something that's specifically 12 directed at the administrative costs directly.

13 So we wanted to just sort of lay 14 the land and sort of be able to draw these 15 aspects of this modified hybrid to high 16 consensus items.

17 And on page 4 you have a table
18 that talks about some of the major differences 19 between the original and the modified hybrid. I 20 don't want to focus on this too much, but I
21 would like to just draw out some of the critical 22 differences.

23 In the original hybrid you had a
24 sort of standard package being available to you,

1 sort of a newly-covered population, as being a
2 high deductible plan that was a health savings
3 account compatible. That was a low consensus 4 item to the Task Force. So we did away with 5 that. And we have now a sort of standard 6 product that is not a high deductible product, 7 and that's not health savings account
8 compatible.

9 In the first tier of the modified 10 hybrid we now say that if you have an offer of 11 coverage that you are taking up, and you are -- 12 through your employer, you are under 400 percent 13 of the federal poverty level, we will not offer 14 premium assistance to you, in the first tier.
15 In the second tier, once the individual mandate 16 comes in, you may.

17 And we recognize that that is an 18 equity issue. We implemented that over concerns
19 for costs, and recognizing that -- In tier 2 20 that does not exist. Done away with. But under 21 the original hybrid that provision didn't exist.
22 If you were receiving coverage or not -- If you 23 were taking up coverage or not taking up 24 coverage through your employer, you were under a

1 certain FPL, you would get premium assistance.
2 So that's also a change.

3 In the original hybrid we had a
4 no reinsurance component. And in this one we 5 do. We will talk in little more detail about 6 that. I know one of your questions related to 7 that program.

8 For the benefit package the scope
9 of service remains unchanged. But as I have 10 mentioned, the high deductible component of it 11 did.

12 We continue to include an 13 individual mandate and an employer assessment.
14 However, those don't go into effect -- those 15 only go into effect in tier 2. We don't have 16 those in tier 1.

17 For public expansions, the 18 original hybrid that, let's cover childless 19 adults through Medicaid, and let's try to 20 capture federal funds through Medicaid for that 21 population, when we thought through it, we 22 thought that it -- thought it might be very 23 unlikely for the State to be able to achieve the 24 cost savings in its current Medicaid population

1 to cover that new population of childless
2 adults.

3 So we decided that, to be more
4 conservative in our estimate, we would say that 5 that would be population covered through the 6 Medicaid program but funded only by State funds.
7 That's also changed.

8 For administration we have what 9 is called the Illinois Health Education Referral 10 Center, an administrative body; and that in the 11 first hybrid did not have a public board that 12 serves a governing recommendation function. In 13 this version of the hybrid it does.

14 We also have added some fraud and 15 abuse provisions in this hybrid, under what 16 we'll call IHRT during the meeting that -- this 17 administrative body.

18 MR. ROBBINS: Clarification question.

19 MR. KOEHLER: Yeah.

20 MR. ROBBINS: Are these different 21 fraud and abuse considerations than those 22 already involved in either the Medicaid program
23 or the Illinois Department of Insurance?

24 MS. DAVIDSON: If they are already

1 currently existing?

2 MR. ROBBINS: I know in Medicaid there
3 are fraud and abuse protection activities.

4 I assume also in the Illinois
5 Division of Insurance that there are as well.

6 Are these different from or in 7 addition to those?

8 MS. DAVIDSON: In addition to those.
9 In addition to those. These are --

10 These are having IHRT look at 11 fraud and abuse technologies and activities in 12 the private sector and thinking about how to 13 apply those to public programs, as well as if 14 the Task Force were to go with option B going 15 to -- to apply it to those as well.

16 DR. BARBATO: Could you be more
17 specific about the difference between employer
18 assessment and employer mandate?

19 MS. DAVIDSON: Sure. We have chosen 20 the word employer assessment because -- or that 21 term because what we are saying is that all 22 employers must pay -- with the exception of 23 employers that are under 25, must pay an 24 assessment -- a health care assessment fee.

1 They may receive a credit against that fee if 2 they offer certain levels of coverage currently 3 to their employees. And that's that sort of 4 broad-based approach to defining that assessment 5 what we think would help the State avoid some of 6 the legal challenges that other states have 7 encountered with employer -- deemed as employer 8 mandates.

9 MR. MURPHY: In looking at the cost, 10 is that the $4 billion figure that you talked 11 about in the presentation?

12 MS. DAVIDSON: Employer assessment 13 fee.

14 MS. TAYLOR: 1.4. I will specifically 15 point it out when we get to that part of the 16 presentation.

17 MS. DAVIDSON: And those 18 assessments are meant to offset -- to go towards 19 the cost of these premiums.

20 So we are going to go through 21 some of the exhibits you have in front of you.
22 So this is on page 5 of your report, sort of a 23 general overview as we have been talking about, 24 you have an IHRT here, your administrative body

1 and oversight board, and you have various 2 insurance market changes to spread risk and 3 reduce administrative costs. And that's sort of 4 the umbrella over which this change occurs.

5 We have a variety of new coverage
6 options. The covering parent from 185 to 7 200 percent of the FPL is something that we had 8 in the original hybrid. It is -- We say that it 9 is SCHIP-funded, but we believe the State can 10 achieve that by doing one of two things, one is 11 by finding existing savings in the Medicaid 12 population to cover this new population. The 13 other option would be to use income disregards
14 for the Medicaid population to cover more
15 low-income parents. We think that that is a 16 possibility. I know we have talked in the 17 report about there being extensive discussions 18 needed with CMS to do that. And, Jim, this was 19 one of your questions, but many states have used 20 income disregards to cover more low-income
21 parents. Why would we think extensive 22 discussions would be necessary with the federal 23 government? We believe that a lot has happened
24 in the past few years. The federal government

1 is a lot more cautious about what they will 2 approve. And we think that it is best said that 3 this is a risk area; that we think that the 4 state could do this, but we don't want to say 5 that it's a sure thing.

6 DR. BACKS: Income disregard, that 7 terminology to me means --

8 MS. DAVIDSON: It means that to 9 qualify for Medicaid the state will say, well, 10 we're going to disregard a certain portion of 11 your income, we are not going to count it, so 12 essentially you would meet our poverty -- the 13 guidelines, the eligibility guidelines to 14 qualify for coverage, because we are not going 15 to count some of your income. Disregard --

16 DR. BACKS: Can you give an example of 17 what type of income might be disregarded?

18 MS. DAVIDSON: The state will pay $300
19 on it. They might say $600, $800. There are 20 other ways to do it as well. I think that some 21 states have actually said they will disregard 22 assets in addition. But basically you disregard 23 a certain amount of income up to the point where 24 you're essentially extending coverage up to a

1 certain federal poverty level.

2 MR. ROBBINS: One other question.
3 Wasn't entirely sure when you talked about 4 expanding -- I think you said expanding the 5 SCHIP program to make more money available.

6 Could you just elaborate on that 7 a little bit?

8 MS. DAVIDSON: Yes. Yes. Illinois
9 currently is, as you just said, is spending all 10 of its SCHIP allotment; and our understanding, 11 continuing to do so. So once you go beyond the 12 federal government SCHIP allotment, you have to 13 pay for that cost of care, often with state-only 14 funds.

15 Low income parents are covered
16 under a -- large portion of them are covered 17 under SCHIP funds. What we are saying is we're 18 going to extend that higher up to 2 percent.

19 MS. TAYLOR: If the lowest income
20 parents receive match at Medicaid rates, and by 21 including more Medicaid rates it can free up 22 current SCHIP spending from that allotment for 23 what we perceive to be purposes that move more 24 towards expanding coverage --

1 MS. DAVIDSON: So you essentially have 2 an allotment that's capped, and you're 3 saying you're going to bring in more parents.
4 So essentially you use some of your parents 5 that's covered under that allotment into 6 Medicaid through these income disregards.

7 The other new coverage options
8 are your childless adults paid for up to a 9 hundred percent of federal poverty level paid 10 for by Medicaid.

11 We continue to have the various 12 Medicaid expansions for disabled populations 13 that we have had in the original hybrid.

14 Then we provide premium
15 assistance up to 400 percent of the federal 16 poverty level, with a special provision to 17 support small low-wage firms. And Lynn is going 18 to talk in detail about that in just a little 19 bit.

20 Within that we have this option A
21 and this option B. So under option A, all 22 carriers offer this comprehensive standard plan
23 that people would access through premium
24 assistance. And under opposition B carriers can

1 still do that, but you'd also have a state
2 self-insured plan that would provide that 3 support.

4 And the reason we brought in that 5 option B is we felt that it helped the state 6 achieve high consensus items, such as lower 7 administrative costs and pooling risks, and 8 supporting safety net providers. And the reason
9 I say that option B supports safety net
10 providers is that this state self-insured plan
11 will be built on the Medicaid provider network.

12 MR. ROBBINS: Including payment levels
13 at Medicaid rates?

14 MS. DAVIDSON: That's a good point.
15 No, it's not.

16 MS. PRINTEN: It's a smidge higher.

17 MR. ROBBINS: Oh, 105 percent, based 18 on Medicaid rates.

19 MS. DAVIDSON: That's right. So what 20 we are saying is that under -- and this isn't 21 here in this slide. But we are including a 22 6 percent total Medicaid increase to providers.

23 Across the board I think it would 24 be an issue of great debate and analysis to 1 determine how to allocate that to different

2 provider groups. But that you would increase 3 under tier 1, the payments by 3 percent, and 4 then based on quality indicators at the 5 additional 3 percent after that. And what we 6 are saying is that this state self-insured plan 7 would be 105 percent of those rates. So if 8 there are increased rates, it would be 105
9 percent of those increased rates.

10 MR. ROBBINS: In what -- See if I 11 phrase this correctly.

12 Every state has an upper payment
13 limit that applies to its Medicaid program.

14 To the extent that Illinois is 15 already bumping up, and it might shortly be 16 bumping up against that upper payment limit 17 under its current arrangements, does the 18 expansion of the Medicaid programs that you
19 propose have any -- is it (inaudible) in any way 20 by that consideration of the upper payment limit 21 amount?

22 MS. DAVIDSON: It would -- You would 23 have to target your increase to --

24 You'd have to look at your

1 providers across the spectrum in the Medicaid
2 program. And if there are providers that are 3 bumping up against their upper payment limits, 4 you wouldn't be able to pay them more and get 5 federal match for it. So you would have to --

6 MR. ROBBINS: I don't think it's a 7 question of paying them more.

8 As Dr. Murphy here -- perhaps 9 somebody else might know the answer to this,
10 it's the total sum of spending, is it not, not 11 just paying more for any particular provider?

12 So if you added a lot of people 13 to the rolls not presently on the rolls, that 14 could create a problem with your upper payment 15 limit, depending on what the mathematics are; am 16 I correct?

17 MS. SRECKOVICH: Right. There is no
18 specific adjustment in the model to take right 19 now.

20 MR. KOEHLER: David has a question.

21 MR. CARVALHO: Let me try to help out 22 on this too.

23 Upper payment limit is a 24 calculation that says look at the people you are

1 serving in Medicaid, you can't spend more if you 2 use Medicare principals. But it's not an 3 absolute number, it's a number based on the 4 people you are serving. So it seems that if you 5 are adding people, your limit goes up.

6 MR. ROBBINS: Thank you. That helps.

7 MR. CARVALHO: Depending on what 8 people you are adding, what is a covered 9 category that the federal government would match 10 for. But I think there is that flexibility in 11 there.

12 MS. TAYLOR: And then making one other
13 consideration that we also have -- well, I guess 14 we'll get into that in a little more detail.
15 But a lot of populations that may be going to 16 Medicaid providers who actually aren't getting 17 federal match. So for them, when you look at 18 the overall increase in case load for these 19 providers, there are some people that aren't 20 impacting that calculation because they in fact 21 don't get federal match.

22 MR. ROBBINS: Thank you.

23 MS. DAVIDSON: So these new coverage
24 options that are layered over the (inaudible)

1 state public programs to (inaudible) coverage
2 and individual market takeout.

3 The funding sources of all of 4 these options are federal and state Medicaid and 5 SCHIP funds; employer and employee premium 6 payments; additional state tax revenues, which 7 is a moderate consensus item, would be necessary 8 to fund this.

9 And then, you know, through tier
10 2 you have monies coming in through your 11 employer assessment, then also from --

12 We have not counted in our 13 modeling the penalties assessed through the 14 individual mandate, because we feel that's a 15 very -- unfair to both funding streams, but you 16 would have some type of funding (inaudible)
17 couldn't be complying with your individual 18 mandate.

19 And we are going to go on and 20 talk a little bit more about the differences 21 between your option A and your option B. And I 22 will turn this over to Lynn to walk through.

23 You have a question here?

24 DR. JONES: Taking into account that

1 there may be -- will have less tax revenue from 2 the county, if everybody becomes insured right
3 now (inaudible) lot of tax revenue. Could you 4 count that?

5 MR. KOEHLER: It's hard to hear that
6 question.

7 DR. JONES: Well, if this comes 8 through, you also would have less -- you also 9 potentially would have a county -- the county
10 would have automatic tax revenue for health
11 care, which would not -- that would leave you 12 with much less. You could even say, well, that 13 offsets some of this.

14 Did you take that into 15 consideration at all?

16 MS. TAYLOR: Well, we have not taken 17 it into consideration in the sense that we 18 estimated what those total funds were, and 19 showed that if we were to net them out of sort 20 of a residual left for the state to pay, how 21 much the balance would be. However, I think we 22 all believe that ideally those would be captured
23 in some way. Might even be through indirect
24 mechanism. Maybe your county income tax'll go

1 down. I am not sure. Because the county is 2 paying for less uncompensated care.

3 But, on the other hand, there is,
4 you know --

5 We are trying to spread the 6 burden evenly across all the residents of the 7 state. So those funds that are freed up are -- 8 maybe people who are previously uninsured and 9 now contributing to their premium could see 10 that, you know, maybe it came through that 11 mechanism.

12 I think it's something to -- in 13 the final version of the proposal to the 14 legislature that you would want to keep track of 15 and say, how did you account for those funds.

16 DR. JONES: Well, for that matter, the 17 providers also. You're sort of going to have 18 external resources too because everyone will be 19 covered. So what happens to those providers, 20 you keep them; or what's going on?

21 MS. TAYLOR: There's a number of ways
22 that could be approached. I think that we don't 23 specifically -- in this proposal we do detail
24 how this happens, we are capturing those types

1 of funds. You know, that's something we can 2 look into.

3 MS. DAVIDSON: I think in the tier 2
4 when you have coverage of the uninsured
5 growing -- excuse me -- covered of the insured 6 growing so quickly, you would anticipate that 7 you wouldn't need as much as those funds; and 8 that, for example, your hospital with 9 disproportionate share funds may not -- sort of 10 mechanism to distribute those might need to be 11 adjusted. I think that's where the state might 12 want to start consider looking at those types of 13 sources redirecting them potentially in cases 14 where funds usually using those expand part of 15 the coverage expansions to fund parts of those.

16 MS. TAYLOR: And other states that I
17 have looked at, I think those tend to be the 18 bulk of the uncompensated care funds going from 19 the state, are those issuing --

20 This exhibit number 2, does 21 everybody have that in front of them? This is a 22 lot of the same information that Gwynn just 23 presented to you, but it is a little bit 24 confusing because we have provided several

1 options. This is in essence a different way to 2 look at that same information. And what we 3 tried to do was distinguish between the features
4 of our proposal, which don't change as you go 5 between tier 1 and tier 2 and as you go between 6 option A and option B. And those are listed at 7 the top of the chart.

8 Basically, the function of IHRT;
9 the fact that we are offering premium assistance 10 to individuals up to 400 percent of poverty is 11 subject to some other constraints which I will 12 get into. But there is a premium assistance 13 program in place.

14 There are public program
15 expansions that don't change as you go across 16 the options. And there are certain insurance 17 market changes that don't change, and there are 18 others that do. The ones that don't change are 19 a limit on medical trend for your guaranteed
20 issued products, and the voluntary reinsurance
21 pool, which I am going to talk about in a lot 22 more detail in a few slides.

23 What does differ between the 24 scenarios, which you might want to keep track

1 of, is, under option A, as Gwynn has already 2 mentioned, the product that we are offering the 3 premium assistance for is a
4 commercially-provided -- Carriers are required
5 to offer this product on a guaranteed issue
6 basis both to their individual -- if they offer
7 it in the individual market, they must offer it
8 there. If they offer it in a smaller market, 9 they must offer it there. And it is -- It uses 10 commercial providers.

11 As you will see when we get to 12 the cost analysis, it's a more expensive product 13 compared to option B. And we just wanted you to 14 have some alternatives in front of you.

15 Under option B there are two 16 products that qualify for premium assistance.
17 One is a state self-insured plan that uses
18 Medicaid providers, and it uses the enhanced
19 Medicaid rates that Gwynn mentioned, 105 percent 20 of the higher rates that we are already 21 proposing. We put this in place because it's 22 been our experience that often the types of 23 people that we are trying to get the premium 24 assistance to are actually often going to these

1 types of providers already. They are already 2 being seen by the FQHC as an uncompensated care 3 payment or a self-pay patient.

4 In addition, one of our high
5 consensus items was that we limited
6 administrative costs. And this was one of the 7 ways that you could achieve that high consensus 8 item.

9 Lastly, between increasing demand
10 and enhancing the payment rates, we are hoping 11 to also achieve the high consensus item that 12 strengthens the safety net provider network.

13 In addition to this -- And this 14 has the exact same plan design. What is 15 different between A and B is the provider
16 network that's being used.

17 In addition, the cost to the 18 person receiving premium assistance is actually 19 the same between A and B. It's the cost to the 20 state that differs.

21 MS. MITROFF: The state-funded premium
22 assistance that you are talking about, that's 23 400 percent of federal poverty level?

24 MS. TAYLOR: The assistance is

1 available up to 400 percent.

2 MS. MITROFF: What is that in real 3 numbers? Because 400 percent poverty level is 4 probably --

5 MS. TAYLOR: Well, that depends on 6 your family size.

7 MS. MITROFF: Family of four might be 8 what?

9 MS. TAYLOR: I'd hate to hazard a 10 guess.

11 MR. ROBBINS: $80,000.

12 MS. MITROFF: I thought it was 13 $80,000.

14 MS. TAYLOR: I don't think it was that 15 high, but you could be right.

16 MS. MITROFF: It is.

17 DR. JONES: 400 percent.

18 MS. TAYLOR: This is a sliding scale.
19 I don't know if we have mentioned that, so I 20 will look it up. I don't doubt what you said, 21 but I have something I can look up during the 22 break and make sure that is what it is.

23 So the other thing under option B
24 still in tier 1 is that carriers are permitted

1 to voluntarily offer a comprehensive guaranteed 2 issued product in the individual market or in 3 the small group market. And if they do so, the 4 premium assistance can be applied to that 5 product as well; but they are not required to do
6 so, as they are in option A.

7 Now, these last two bullets don't 8 differ between A and B, but they only apply to 9 tier 1. And this is --

10 We do have -- as we did in the 11 last hybrid, we do have some compression of the 12 minimum premium and the maximum premium that you 13 are allowed to charge for a given product within 14 a geographic area. And the spread cannot be -- 15 Highest premium charge cannot be more than 16 135 percent of the base (inaudible). And 17 carriers in the individual and small group 18 market are limited to a medical loss ratio of 19 80 percent, when they go to have their rates
20 approved upon renewal. These two features
21 change as you go to tier 2. Tier 2, just as a 22 reminder, features individual mandate in an 23 effort to achieve greater coverage.

24 With individual mandate in place,

1 and additional coverage in place, and presumably 2 lower risk of offering products in these 3 markets, we reduce the rate spread by 5 percent
4 down to 130 and we increase the minimum loss 5 ratio up to 85 percent.

6 Lastly, tier 2 features the 7 employer assessment that Gwynn already 8 described. All these features are the same 9 between A and B. And these products -- and the 10 products in A and B continue to be offered down 11 in tier 2.

12 Does that help? Do people feel 13 clear about how 1A through 2B vary?

14 MR. KOEHLER: Catherine.

15 MS. BRESLER: I've got a couple of 16 questions. And I am very confused at this 17 point.

18 One of the comments you made
19 earlier on is about how these options
20 demonstrate that administrative costs are 21 contained. I have no -- I mean I wrote it down
22 as you were saying it, but I have no idea --

23 MS. TAYLOR: How we achieve that 24 consensus item?

1 MS. BRESLER: Right, with these.

2 MS. TAYLOR: Well, there are two 3 features that address that consensus item.
4 Common to all scenarios is the limit on medical 5 loss ratio.

6 MS. BRESLER: We're talking about 7 administrative costs. You said it helps contain 8 administrative costs. What you are talking 9 about is limiting price, you are not talking 10 about administrative costs?

11 It seems to me that this is not 12 addressing the cost of providing care.

13 MS. TAYLOR: Right.

14 MS. BRESLER: Or the cost of providing 15 coverage. So how is it that limiting rates 16 contains administrative costs.

17 MS. TAYLOR: Well, the rate -- the 18 bans, that is not intended to contain 19 administrative costs, it is the medical loss 20 ratio that is intended to address administrative 21 costs. Because in the analysis that we provided 22 last time, for carriers in the individual 23 market, we had carriers with administrative loss 24 ratios of, you know, 661 and 65 and so on, which

1 seems like their profit and admin. is higher 2 than it needs to be.

3 MS. BRESLER: Loss ratio is --

4 MS. TAYLOR: Is not what you are 5 spending on medical care.

6 DR. BACKS: 80 percent. 80 percent of 7 dollars go to care.

8 MS. BRESLER: Right.

9 MS. TAYLOR: So the balance --

10 MS. BRESLER: Doesn't go to 11 administrative cost.

12 MS. TAYLOR: No. If you -- The flip 13 side of saying you are restricted to an 85 14 percent medical loss ratio is to say your 15 nonmedical -- the nonmedical care component of 16 your premium cannot exceed 15 percent.

17 So the percent of your premium 18 that is not going for medical care cannot exceed 19 20 percent in the case of tier 1 and cannot 20 exceed 15 percent in the case of tier 2. So 21 that was intended to address that consensus
22 item. Okay? Does that not make sense?

23 MS. BRESLER: It doesn't make sense, 24 but not because --

1 MR. ROBBINS: Could I just ask --

2 MS. TAYLOR: All right.

3 MR. ROBBINS: Go through that again,
4 what the rationale is for the difference between 5 80 percent in tier 1 and 85 percent in tier 2.

6 MS. TAYLOR: Well, the rationale is,
7 in tier 2 we have achieved very high rates of 8 coverage. And we believe that that should make 9 costs more predictable and that carriers can be 10 held to a more restrictive standard, because the 11 rates of coverage across the state are so high.

12 MR. KOEHLER: Joe. You have the next
13 question.

14 MR. ROBERTS: One of my ongoing
15 concerns is -- I raised it last month and I will 16 raise it again: If you continue to limit the 17 private insurance market by doing these types of 18 things, has there been any conversations with 19 the major carriers here in Illinois about the 20 willingness to offer these types of products, or 21 are they just going to bail on the state? And 22 then we are left with -- in a situation where 23 you have a none-competitive situation where two 24 or three carriers can jack up the price

1 significantly. That's a major concern as you 2 look at the east coast models that have been put 3 into place where the premiums are five to six 4 times higher what we pay here in Illinois.

5 MS. TAYLOR: Those are -- It's a valid
6 concern. We do not want a solution that causes
7 carriers to leave the state. I think we can all 8 agree on that.

9 The fact that significant premium
10 subsidies are being offered creates a demand 11 that is not now available to the carriers.

12 MR. ROBERTS: Has there been any 13 discussion with any of the carriers?

14 MS. TAYLOR: It's my impression that 15 it's not even appropriate for us to discuss this 16 with the carriers. I think that's something for 17 the Task Force to discuss; and the function of 18 these stakeholder forums.

19 DR. JONES: The employer who currently 20 is providing insurance for his employees, would 21 he have the option of switching over to 22 state-insured plans spanning through that?

23 MS. TAYLOR: Only if they are a small 24 low-rate employer.

1 DR. JONES: Couldn't they say this is 2 more attractive -- this is a more attractive 3 product, you know; without the subsidies it's 4 still more attractive; 3 percent administrative 5 costs instead of 15 to 20 percent administrative 6 costs, I want to have my employees with this 7 insurance, which would also go along with this?
8 They going to leave the market and still have -- 9 If it turned out to be the best options to 10 compete, and if they can't compete, then have a 11 lower cost program that covers everybody --

12 MR. ROBERTS: But there's no guarantee
13 it's now by a lower cost program.

14 DR. JONES: The administrative costs
15 of 3 percent to pay into paying Medicaid rates 16 plus 3 or 6 percent.

17 MS. TAYLOR: Well, I think there are 18 probably practical limits on how many people you 19 can -- these providers can serve, even with all 20 the incentives that we put in place under the 21 proposal, such as increased timeliness of 22 payments, enhanced payment rates.

23 You would probably have to do
24 more if you vastly increase the number of people

1 being served by the Medicaid providers.

2 DR. JONES: All of the (inaudible)
3 providers will join if they have to, because if 4 they don't, they'll lose most of the patients, 5 incentive for them to join program, start to 6 move.

7 MR. KOEHLER: Let me break in here. I
8 think that gets into a substantial area where we 9 need to do more research. So the point is 10 noted, and we need to review that further.

11 MS. TAYLOR: Thank you.

12 MR. KOEHLER: How do you
13 define geographic area?

14 MS. TAYLOR: It would be the same
15 geographic areas currently being used.

16 MR. ROBERTS: You don't have community
17 rating.

18 MS. TAYLOR: Pardon?

19 MR. ROBERTS: You don't have community
20 rating.

21 MS. DAVIDSON: You don't -- I
22 apologize. So there aren't any in place right 23 now?

24 MR. ROBERTS: Not in Illinois don't

1 have community rating.

2 MS. DAVIDSON: No, I know you don't 3 have community rating. I thought there were 4 geographic areas that factored into 5 determination of --

6 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: ZIP code.

7 MS. TAYLOR: It would be an 8 aggregation. It would be something larger than 9 a ZIP code, but designed to reflect, obviously, 10 the prevailing practice costs in that geographic 11 area.

12 MR. KOEHLER: This is an area where we 13 again have to kind of come back maybe after 14 lunch and address some issues that we see as 15 needing some more research, ongoing discussion.
16 But for the purpose of the presentation here, 17 let's move on. I think another question to 18 clarify --

19 MS. TAYLOR: You would not want them 20 to --

21 You would --

22 I think the point here was you
23 don't want enforcement to be used on the cost 24 geographic areas because the cost of goods from 1 carriers differs too much across the board.

2 MR. KOEHLER: Doctor.

3 DR. BARBATO: Just as a question of 4 definition. The enhanced Medicaid rates relate 5 to which Medicaid rates, base rates, DISH rates, 6 add-on rates, all of the above? Makes a 7 difference.

8 MS. DAVIDSON: I don't think that. I
9 think that given where DISH payments stand, I 10 think if you will apply it to the base rate 11 (inaudible) that some providers are receiving, 12 so that we would --

13 I think what the state would want 14 to do is look at that aggregate increase and 15 then decide how best to direct that to different 16 provider groups. That's not something that was 17 specific to here.

18 MS. SRECKOVICH: Add to that hospital,
19 all kinds of different add-on rates. And I
20 think all of that would need to be rate-21 considered, in light of, you know, I think any 22 proposed increases, and with the loss of some 23 disproportionate share of allocations to the 24 hospital, the whole scenario needs to be

1 evaluated.

2 States that have made these kind 3 of changes have gone back and started from 4 scratch -- not exactly scratch, but have 5 developmental analogy that will go back and 6 re-create kind of compensation levels they have 7 with hospitals in absence of some of the other,
8 you know, DISH and other funds. And that needs 9 to be worked out with CPS either through 10 waiver -- or as part of the waiver or whatever.
11 That is something that needs to be considered.

12 MS. TAYLOR: Okay.

13 MS. DAVIDSON: In the exhibit what we 14 are trying to show -- let me just put this away.

15 What we are showing here are 16 choices available to the individual under the 17 modified hybrid model, another way of presenting 18 the information. So the first questions that an 19 individual could ask themselves, for themselves 20 or their family is: Am I a childless adult who 21 had under 400 percent of the FPL? If yes, can I 22 get a Medicaid light coverage that's 23 state-funded? Am I a low-income parent up to 24 200 percent of the FPL? If so, I can obtain

1 family care coverage. And am I disabled?

2 There would be new Medicaid
3 eligibility categories for disabled populations.

4 If I am none of these, then I
5 would go into these options: Under tier 1, if I 6 am under 400 percent of the FPL, and I have an 7 employer offer of coverage, and I am taking that 8 coverage up, then I have no change. I don't get 9 premium assistance for that in tier 2.

10 If I am under 400 percent of the 11 FPL and I am not participating in offer of 12 coverage, and I am not uninsured -- excuse me -- 13 if I am under 400 percent of the FPL and I am 14 employed by a small low-wage firm that has 15 qualifying coverage, I can get premium 16 assistance.

17 Lynn, do you want to sort of talk 18 through the options from the employer
19 standpoint?

20 MS. TAYLOR: Sure. So on Exhibit 4, 21 for medium and large employers, and with small 22 employers who do not have a majority of low-wage 23 workers, the only thing that's changed from the 24 employer's perspective is employees in their

1 firms who are eligible for the coverage, but did
2 not take it up. Can now get premium assistance
3 to help them take up that coverage, under tier 4 1.

5 Under tier 2 all employees would 6 be eligible for premium assistance. What's 7 different is, in keeping with the high consensus
8 item of trying to maintain -- I forget how it 9 was worded -- maintain employer commitment and 10 try to increase it, we have a special situation 11 for our small and low-wage employers, which are 12 the most vulnerable employers, in terms of 13 whether or not they even offer it to begin with, 14 and whether or not they will continue to offer 15 in the future.

16 These employers may offer the 17 product that is eligible for premium assistance
18 whether -- So that would differ between option A 19 and option B. They can contribute as little as 20 50 percent to the cost of coverage for their 21 employees and they can contribute zero for their 22 dependents. So this is a below market
23 contribution rate that would help make it more 24 affordable to them.

1 In addition, under option B, if 2 you will recall, the subsidies are set up so 3 that the cost of coverage is the same to the 4 Illinois resident under both option A and B, the 5 post-subsidy cost. But the cost to the small 6 employer under option B will be less, because 7 the product being subsidized is much less 8 costly; and they are paying a percentage of 9 that. They are paying only 50 percent for their 10 employees.

11 Yes, Ken?

12 MR. ROBBINS: To be sure that I am 13 clear, on the green and blue blocks, if you had 14 employers who were providing coverage to their 15 employees, and you had some people making 16 $20,000 a year who pay for that insurance, and 17 some who had chosen not to pay, because they 18 couldn't afford or for whatever reason, under 19 this plan only those who previously have not had 20 insurance coverage would get a subsidy; but 21 somebody earning the same amount of money who 22 had taken up the coverage offer would not be 23 subsidized; is that right?

24 MS. TAYLOR: Under option A that is

1 correct. That is not a feature that you need to 2 keep. It certainly is a huge equity
3 consideration. But one of the things that the 4 Task Force -- we've seen it wrestled with a 5 little bit, is the cost of these types of 6 programs.

7 So we wanted to give you an 8 option with a very strong crowd-out feature 9 because it significantly reduces the cost to the 10 state. There's a flip side, which is it's 11 highly inequitable to someone who is similarly 12 situated. I think it's a question for the Task 13 Force, perhaps for this afternoon, how do you 14 want to navigate that thicket.

15 You have -- Under our option A 16 results you can see generally what it looks like 17 to have that strong crowd-out provision -- I am
18 sorry -- Under tier 1, I should have said.

19 Under tier 2 you can see what it 20 looks like and what the cost to the State is of 21 not having that strong crowd-out provision.

22 Now, there is a mandate in place,
23 which means the take-up in costs are a little 24 higher for our employer -- our subsidy of

1 existing employer coverage, but it's not that 2 different. It still shows you the impact of 3 removing the crowd-out provisions. So
4 everything is on the table.

5 MR. ROBBINS: I understand that. But 6 I am just curious in terms of thinking that it 7 is -- that's creating that distinction between 8 tier 1 and tier 2.

9 What was that rationale for 10 treating similarly situated employees in 11 similarly situated companies differently, 12 depending on whether we went to tier 1 or tier 2 13 option A?

14 MS. TAYLOR: Cost.

15 MS. DAVIDSON: But also that we have 16 the individual mandate coming into effect in 17 tier 2, so if everyone needs to have insurance 18 that becomes even more an equitable -- difficult 19 to judge, you know, who shouldn't get that 20 premium assistance. So tier 2 really brings it 21 in.

22 MS. TAYLOR: But the reason you have 23 an option that even contains that inequity was 24 to look at the cost implications.

1 MR. ROBERTS: You may have a slide on 2 this. Do you have specifics on what the mandate
3 for the employers are somewhere? What the 4 actual mandate says?

5 MS. TAYLOR: You mean how is the 6 assessment --

7 MR. ROBERTS: Yeah. What's their 8 requirement to provide it?

9 MS. TAYLOR: I think we do. It is 10 actually, I think, the same as last time.

11 MS. DAVIDSON: Page 28 of the report.

12 MR. KOEHLER: Is there another
13 question?

14 MS. TAYLOR: Question over here?

15 DR. JONES: It's not just an equity
16 issue for employees. You can have two very 17 similar industries: One employer decided they 18 are going to have lower wages and provide health 19 insurance and higher wages and not provide 20 health insurance. All of a sudden that second 21 one gets a competitive edge because he is now 22 offering insurance subsidy for that.

23 See what I am saying?

24 MS. TAYLOR: You are saying if -- Our

1 green and blue blocks --

2 So you are not talking about 3 small low-wage --

4 DR. JONES: Right.

5 MS. TAYLOR: You're saying someone 6 that's previously not offered, they begin to 7 offer; and presumably, all their employees fall
8 under the category of low-wage --

9 DR. JONES: Subsidy. They are getting 10 help for their employees, where the other one 11 say, well, I'm going to pay a little bit lower 12 to my employees and give them health insurance, 13 that's how I am going to spend my money; don't 14 get insurance.

15 MS. TAYLOR: Well, I don't think it's 16 highly in equitable. Because the employer is 17 not getting a subsidy. And presumably, if they 18 wanted to offer coverage to their employees, 19 they would be doing so. You know, I don't think 20 we would get a lot of new coverage offerings 21 because their employees are not eligible for a 22 subsidy.

23 In addition to the employers that 24 are not now offering, only -- not all of

1 there -- it's highly unlikely that all of their 2 employees would qualify for premium assistance.
3 Some of those employees are getting coverage
4 through their spouse; and that would disqualify
5 them. Some are in public coverage (inaudible)
6 because the cost sharing is lower. So it is the 7 type of employee that is affected by this 8 provision. They tend to be scattered across 9 firms, but never concentrated in a given firm.
10 That's what the research seems to indicate.

11 DR. JONES: What does Wal-Mart do for 12 its low -- for example, it doesn't provide -- 13 they don't provide insurance for their low 14 income --

15 MS. TAYLOR: No, they do. They do.
16 But people don't take --

17 DR. JONES: Don't take it up --
18 Because all of a sudden,
19 Wal-Mart, their employees are going to be able 20 to access premium. Another company with the 21 same product may have said we're going to make 22 less of a barrier for people, and provide the 23 most cost to their employees, so really is 24 providing more.

1 MS. TAYLOR: Yes.

2 DR. JONES: -- not provide much in 3 health insurance.

4 MS. DAVIDSON: I will sort of put that 5 on sort of the -- to think about as we move
6 forward.

7 If we go into tier 2 --

8 MR. KOEHLER: We need to move on.
9 Been here a long time.

10 Craig.

11 DR. BACKS: Going from a situation
12 where there are no inequities and creating 13 inequities. There are going to be inequities 14 all throughout the system. So I am a little 15 disturbed.

16 We're getting too bogged down and 17 focusing on one type of inequity without 18 addressing all the others. That's my 19 observation.

20 MR. KOEHLER: We're going to move
21 along here.

22 MS. DAVIDSON: Let me just finish up
23 with what is facing the small employers.

24 Whether you offer or not, we are

1 trying to provide a lower cost option to you.
2 And in the case of option B, unlike for the 3 price set facing employees, option B is lower 4 cost to the small low-wage employers.

5 And I think that covers it.

6 MS. TAYLOR: At the risk of being shot
7 down, I was going to walk through the changes 8 that we are suggesting be made in the insurance
9 market.

10 DR. BACKS: I will administer
11 first-aid.

12 MS. TAYLOR: I will likely need it.

13 Carriers will have a new 14 requirement that they have to file rates with 15 the State for review and approval.

16 In order to get that approval,
17 they will have to demonstrate that the new rates 18 achieve whatever the appropriate minimum medical 19 loss ratio is, whether it's 80 or 85, depending 20 on whether you are in 1 or 2.

21 As before, we have a limit on how 22 high the highest premium for a product in a 23 geographic area -- how much higher it can be 24 over the base rate, or the lowest premium that 1 is offered. And that's 135 percent in the 2 individual market in tier 1; 130 percent for 3 small groups, and -- whether it's tier 1 or 2; 4 and also 130 percent in tier 2, for individual.

5 I think I could have said that in 6 a less confusing way.

7 MS. MITROFF: Well, I guess what I'm 8 confused about, are you saying that currently 9 those limits are not being met?

10 MS. TAYLOR: Yes. Rates vary by more
11 than 35 or 30 percent in both the small group 12 and the individual markets.

13 MS. MITROFF: And so you are trying to 14 reign in administrative costs? Did I hear --

15 MS. TAYLOR: No. This provision is 16 unrelated to administrative costs. This has to 17 do with risk-spreading; trying to meet the 18 consensus items of spreading risk broadly.

19 MS. MITROFF: So I guess I'm not 20 tracking with how this is spreading risk. Isn't 21 it just dealing with price?

22 MS. TAYLOR: Well, it has the -- 23 By compressing your rates, the 24 very healthy people are effectively subsidizing

1 the unhealthy people. Because if you did not 2 have this in place, the spread for a given 3 product in a given geographic area would be much 4 wider.

5 Like, take the small group. I
6 think the spread permitted right now is 7 67 percent.

8 Yeah. Can you confirm that, Jim?

9 MR. SMITH: Plus or minus 25 percent.

10 MS. TAYLOR: Plus or minus. And I 11 think that translate into some sort of math to 12 67 percent.

13 Without those requirements in 14 place, the spread would be greater.

15 So a very healthy small group
16 would be charged less. A very unhealthy group 17 would be charged more, but perhaps they couldn't 18 afford the coverage, and be priced out of the 19 market.

20 So taking that type of approach 21 to rates, compressing it more than it's 22 compressed now, and also bringing it into the 23 individual market.

24 MS. MITROFF: And this is on all

1 products, or just on this comprehensive,
2 undefined product?

3 MS. TAYLOR: This is on all products.
4 So it's within a product and a geographic area.

5 The lowest premium offered must 6 not be -- well, the highest premium offered must 7 not be more than 135 percent of the lowest 8 premium offered.

9 MS. BRESLER: It's community rating.

10 MS. TAYLOR: Well, it is not pure 11 community rating, but it is moving along that 12 spectrum, in an effort to meet the high 13 consensus item of spreading risk broadly.

14 MR. MURPHY: Just real quickly. I
15 think at the April 9 hearing, we had testimony
16 from a past insurance commissioner and present 17 insurance commissioner, I think in response to 18 question about this exact thing. Seems to 19 indicate that they did not feel what you are 20 suggesting here would have the impact that you 21 describe; as a matter of fact, would have an 22 opposite effect.

23 You have consultant
24 recommendation disagreeing with those statements

1 from past and present insurance --

2 MS. TAYLOR: Was the impact a coverage
3 impact or risk-spreading impact? Specifically 4 which point am I disagreeing to?

5 MR. MURPHY: I think it had to do with 6 affordability, what actually occurred with 7 rates.

8 MS. TAYLOR: Well, and this is not an 9 affordability consideration. I don't dispute 10 that this is not addressing affordability. This 11 is specifically to address, consensus item of 12 spreading risk more broadly.

13 It is a given that if you
14 compress rates, the least -- the most healthy 15 people will pay more and the unhealthy folks 16 will pay less. You know, that is the outcome of 17 this type of approach.

18 MR. MURPHY: Could you also argue that 19 if you expanded the current rate bans, that more 20 healthy groups would be attracted into the 21 market, thus reduce rates?

22 MS. TAYLOR: Well, that's the 23 situation we have right now in the individual 24 market. There is no -- There are no bans in 1 place.

2 MR. MURPHY: In the small group.

3 MS. TAYLOR: In the small group,
4 right. If we look at --

5 Presumably, access is not deemed 6 adequate in the individual market right now, I 7 would assume, based on the fact --

8 MR. MURPHY: We heard you tell us
9 that.

10 MS. TAYLOR: I think David probably 11 wants me to move on.

12 MR. KOEHLER: I do.

13 DR. BACKS: Ask a clarifying question.
14 I think you just did it, but just to be clear.

15 When you say "base rate" you are 16 talking about minimum rate?

17 MS. TAYLOR: The lowest rate.

18 DR. BACKS: When I hear "base," that 19 could mean you could subtract from that rate 20 based on being healthier than average. So --

21 MS. TAYLOR: Right.

22 DR. BACKS: When we say "base," that's 23 minimum?

24 MS. TAYLOR: Yeah.

1 DR. BACKS: Minimum to maximum is 2 35 percent variation. The other way would be 3 70 percent, plus or minus 35 percent.

4 MS. TAYLOR: Right.

5 MR. ROBERTS: That's correct.

6 MS. TAYLOR: We intend this to be the 7 former.

8 DR. BACKS: Which?

9 MS. TAYLOR: "The former" being?

10 DR. BACKS: The floor?

11 MS. TAYLOR: The highest rate may not 12 be more than 35 percent of the lowest rate for 13 the same product in the same geographic area.

14 MR. KOEHLER: Whether we agree or not 15 isn't the issue here. So we need to understand 16 what is being presented.

17 Any other questions of 18 clarification?

19 (NO RESPONSE.)

20 MR. KOEHLER: Let's move on.

21 MS. TAYLOR: We have a limit on 22 medical trend just for the guaranteed issued 23 products. So this effectively -- if you -- This 24 could mean that there would be some cross-

1 substantive issue from the nongroup guaranteed
2 issued products over guaranteed issued products.

3 When we work through this, we 4 envision that for any given carrier, the 5 guaranteed issued products would probably be a 6 minority of their business.

7 Carriers -- All right. We 8 have --

9 To address the high consensus
10 item of a reinsurance product, we brought in a 11 voluntary reinsurance program modeled on the 12 NAIC model.

13 Carriers, this is a -- it is 14 voluntary. If you want, you can pay a premium
15 and reinsure an individual or a small group
16 through this product. The premium that you 17 would pay would not be more than 400 percent of 18 your base rate. You would have to incur -- the 19 carrier would have to incur $5,000 in losses 20 before the reinsurance would kick in.

21 To the extent that premiums do 22 not cover the reinsurance product, there would 23 be a non-voluntary assessment across all the 24 carriers, to cover the cost of the product. And

1 the state would operate the reinsurance product.
2 Okay.

3 And there are a few differences
4 in the provisions related to option A and B.

5 In option A there is a
6 requirement that carriers who operate in the 7 individual market offer the guaranteed issued 8 comprehensive product to individuals. And if 9 you operate in the small group market, there is 10 a similar requirement. Again, that's under 11 option A. They also must provide individuals 12 and small employers information about this 13 product and about the premium assistance that's 14 available.

15 Under option B there is no such 16 requirement on carriers; however, they can 17 voluntarily offer a guaranteed issued product 18 that qualifies for premium assistance.

19 Let me quickly say -- this is one 20 of Jim's questions, is: What is the role of 21 ICHIP in this brave new world?

22 Our recommendation is that you
23 would continue ICHIP until it was determined 24 that you didn't need it anymore. It sort of 1 depends on exactly what set of reforms was put 2 in place.

3 We are introducing things that
4 you could say compete with ICHIP.

5 Individuals have an option of a
6 guaranteed issued product. And there is a cap 7 on how much they are going to pay for that 8 product, the rate bans that we are talking about 9 putting in place.

10 So effectively, if you are 11 somebody who might have qualified for ICHIP
12 before, you have another option available to you 13 now. However, we recommend that you keep those 14 options out there for this population, for a 15 while, and just see if their needs are being 16 met. This may beg the question, especially in 17 the tier 2 world: How do you qualify for ICHIP, 18 given that you have to be denied coverage right
19 now to get into ICHIP?

20 If the only product that you are 21 able to get a quote for is a guaranteed issued 22 product, that's when you become eligible for 23 ICHIP, in this world.

24 In addition, the reinsurance

1 program also changes the dynamics a little bit, 2 depending on how many carriers choose to 3 reinsure their product. And that's no more 4 possible possibly offering coverage to these 5 high risk individuals.

6 Gwynn is bringing up the colored
7 slides they have in front of them.

8 We were going to spend no more
9 than half hour on these, and conclude for lunch.

10 I do want to note we have not 11 been able to specifically address some of 12 Mr. Duffett's questions, so I just wanted to 13 make sure that we could circle back to those.

14 MR. KOEHLER: Okay.

15 MS. TAYLOR: One thing that you have 16 not asked me about is: What are these 17 subsidies? What does the premium subsidy look 18 like?

19 When we developed these 20 subsidies -- And you may want to --

21 I know I just told you to look at 22 the slides, but at the same time, you can look 23 at Exhibit 9 in your handout, which has an 24 illustration of the development of the premium

1 subsidy schedule.

2 MS. DAVIDSON: Page 32.

3 MS. TAYLOR: In developing the subsidy
4 schedule, which has been mentioned, is not quite 5 as generous as our subsidy schedule last time.
6 And it gives the Task Force a few more cost
7 options. We wanted to accomplish a few things.
8 We wanted to ensure that the post-subsidy cost 9 of coverage in the group world was less than the 10 cost of coverage in the nongroup environment.
11 And that is to achieve the high consensus item 12 of maintaining as much employer commitment as 13 possible.

14 Very small employers, if they --
15 There have been subsidy programs, 16 more local affairs, where you could get 17 coverage -- a subsidized coverage product, and 18 costing the individual the same, whether it was 19 offered through their employer or they got it as 20 a nongroup. So it's very little incentive for 21 the smaller employers to try to cover their 22 workers because the workers are just as well off 23 in the individual subsidized product. So we 24 wanted a differential in there, to achieve our

1 high consensus item of employers.

2 MS. MURPHY: These subsidies are 3 really more general than All Kids?

4 MS. TAYLOR: Well, it depends. I
5 think that they are less generous below
6 150 percent. I think in this -- This range, 7 they might be a tad more generous, if you have 8 one kid. If you have more than one kid, All 9 Kids is more generous. If you are at a very 10 high income level All Kids is more generous. So 11 the answer is "it varies." Okay?

12 MS. MURPHY: It's unlimited? It's per 13 child? And then you got six children --

14 MS. TAYLOR: Right. You don't get 15 maxed out the way you do in All Kids.

16 The other objectives we wanted to 17 achieve in the subsidy schedule is we wanted to 18 ensure that a given family did not pay more than 19 a certain percentage of its income, if it 20 chose -- regardless of its family structure and 21 regardless of how many members it insured. And 22 that percent that we chose to start, for the 23 purposes of the modeling results that you are 24 going to look at, was: You did not pay more

1 than 4 percent of your income to insure your 2 entire family in the group market, and you 3 didn't pay more than 6 percent of your income to 4 insure your entire family in the nongroup
5 market.

6 Now, if you insure fewer family
7 members, or depending on your configuration, 8 because the way federal poverty level is 9 determined is a non-linear thing, you may 10 actually pay much less than that; but the result 11 is you will not pay more than those two figures.
12 And that is something, obviously, that the Task 13 Force could discuss and adjust, that 4 and that 14 6 percent.

15 MS. MITROFF: Where did you come up 16 with that number? That was a question I had as 17 I came through here. Was it something we had 18 discussed?

19 MS. TAYLOR: Where did we come up with 20 these percentages?

21 MS. MITROFF: Yeah.

22 MS. TAYLOR: Well, again, we wanted
23 the differential. There is this sort of SCHIP
24 standard out there that both between the premium

1 outlay and out-of-pocket cost-sharing, that that 2 should not exceed 5 percent of family income
3 group. So we are kind of centered around that.
4 There is --

5 You know, if medical cost exceed 6 7 percent of income, you get a tax deduction.
7 There is no goal standard.

8 But we are sort of in the area
9 where people start to feel like you are paying 10 too much if you are going above 5 and 7 and so 11 on. So we picked something that was right in 12 the middle there.

13 MS. MITROFF: But don't you have to 14 relate that to the benefit too?

15 MS. TAYLOR: In other words, how much
16 they are paying out of pocket?

17 MS. MITROFF: Well, if you are saying
18 that you are only spending 4 percent of gross 19 income, you are relating that to a benefit plan, 20 aren't you?

21 MS. TAYLOR: I am looking --

22 Our standard that we use is that,
23 if you buy the product eligible for subsidy, 24 your post-subsidy premium costs will not exceed

1 those two thresholds. It could be well below.
2 And it doesn't factor in cost sharing, which is 3 much more --

4 You know, it's not a high
5 deductible plan such as we had last time.
6 However, for people at very low incomes, the 7 cost sharing could be somewhat onerous, you 8 know, because it's the same cost sharing for 9 everybody.

10 Right now the cost sharing does 11 not fly with income the way that it did in our 12 old hybrid. Okay?

13 So the net result of going
14 through this is that the monthly post-subsidy 15 cost of the coverage in 2007 would look like 16 this, just to give you a sense of what these 17 people are paying. And we addressed a little 18 bit with Ann Marie how does this line up with 19 All Kids or Family Kids or KidCare rebate. We 20 looked at all of that, and in some cases -- 21 because we are approaching it differently, we 22 are in the ballpark. But in some cases, All 23 Kids is more generous and in some cases we 24 are -- and what the family -- how many people

1 you are insuring and where you are in the income 2 stream.

3 So here are the results. While 4 the number of people covered by the program
5 differs a little bit between option A and B, 6 there is not a large difference. And if that 7 seems surprising, the reason is -- and that's 8 why I haven't shown them separately here -- the 9 reason is that, again, the post-subsidy cost is 10 the same between the two options to Illinois 11 residents. It's the State's costs that were 12 affecting in our option A and our option B.

13 The reason that varies at all is 14 that small employers are facing different costs 15 between option A and B. And so only in that 16 option do you see higher take-up of the coverage 17 under option B, in the detailed results that are 18 available to you as part of Exhibit 11.

19 So under tier 1 where there is no
20 mandate in place, there are premium subsidies
21 not quite as generous as last time. We cover 22 about a third of the population. Okay?

23 Under tier 2 where there is a
24 mandate in place, we think we are going to cover

1 around 90 percent of the population, very 2 similar to last time.

3 How many people would be covered
4 under a mandate is subject to, I will admit,
5 some speculation. You know, it depends how well 6 the penalties are enforced, how stiff the 7 penalties are. You could certainly affect that 8 number in how you implement that individual 9 mandate. But as we've seen in the past, you get 10 a big increase in coverage from the mandate.

11 Yes, Ken?

12 MR. ROBBINS: Under tier 2 of the 13 lower right-hand corner, currently insured 14 residents covered by the program, does that 15 change between option A and option B under tier 16 2?

17 MS. TAYLOR: I think that --

18 You have again a few more people
19 covered under option B, not a very large number, 20 but a percent or two more.

21 MR. ROBBINS: So if you used option B, 22 you would actually have a very significant 23 number of people who are currently insured
24 moving to a Medicaid based product; is that

1 right?

2 I will debate the wisdom of that 3 later but --

4 MS. TAYLOR: Under tier 1 I wouldn't 5 call it a large number of currently insureds --

6 MR. ROBBINS: Under tier 2.

7 MS. TAYLOR: Okay. Under tier 2, yes,
8 because we have removed crowd-out provisions.

9 In tier 1 the only currently 10 insured people who can get the premium subsidies
11 are those working for that small low-wage
12 employer, which is why you just see 1 percent
13 there. Sort of one of the goals of tier 1, 14 which was: Have a strong crowd-out provision.
15 What does that look like?

16 No crowd-out provision under tier
17 2. You get a lot more currently insured people 18 getting a subsidy.

19 Have I answered your question,
20 Ken?

21 MR. ROBBINS: Well, for clarity, there 22 may be a lot more people getting a subsidy, but 23 it would also be a lot more people moving from a 24 commercial insurance product to a Medicaid-based

1 product.

2 MS. TAYLOR: Well, much more of that 3 under option A and much more of that under 4 option B.

5 Most people, as you can see by 6 the 21 percent, under tier 2, option B, keep 7 their current coverage. Their employers are -- 8 we believe they will continue to offer the 9 coverage they have offered. Their workers will 10 continue to take that coverage.

11 It's only the people who are 12 currently uninsured or in the individual market 13 that may be -- Well, I should say it's only the 14 people who are in the individual market who are 15 faced with this mandate, they can't afford the 16 commercial options and they are the ones that 17 are going in and taking FQHC product.

18 REPRESENTATIVE COULSON: Could you
19 explain why you make that assumption?

20 MS. TAYLOR: Which assumption?

21 REPRESENTATIVE COULSON: The assumption 22 that people are going to --

23 MS. TAYLOR: You mean people with 24 access to affordable coverage?

1 If they are buying coverage now,
2 and they can afford it, we believe that there is 3 no reason --

4 REPRESENTATIVE COULSON: That's a
5 relative thing. That's why I am having a
6 problem.

7 MS. TAYLOR: Well, I think you could 8 say --

9 Well, don't forget, we have -- 10 Their commercial coverage may be 11 more affordable. So it depends who you are.

12 But we have more people covered,
13 so there is a little bit less risk in the 14 system. We have limits on medical loss ratios.
15 And if you have employer-sponsored coverage of 16 which we increased it a modest amount, you know, 17 that's pretty affordable coverage, you know, and 18 you have a premium subsidy for it.

19 So if you are under 400 percent,
20 there is no crowd-out provision in tier 2. So 21 the incentive to go into the FQHCs is pretty 22 low, if you have one of those options, because 23 you have this assistance available.

24 And we do --

1 One of the things that it seems
2 like the Task Force may need to do, as you
3 narrow down what you are going to recommend,
4 could be that you need some sensitivity analysis
5 around some of these assumptions.

6 MR. ROBBINS: By saying that they go
7 into FQHC under option B, is that what they are 8 limited to, under the Medicaid-sponsored 9 program? I thought they could go to any 10 Medicaid provider.

11 MS. TAYLOR: They can. I was probably 12 using inappropriate shorthand. I think somebody 13 else used it and I started picking it up.

14 All right. Let me move on before
15 David shoots himself.

16 So if you were to look at -- We 17 have a new table in Exhibit 11 that we did not 18 have last time. And we tried to show the impact 19 of our different options on subsidy groups -- 20 subpopulations of the uninsured.

21 In general, the impact of these 22 options is somewhat uniform across, for example, 23 different types of workers.

24 Where you see some big

1 differences in tier 1, which is where you are 2 going to see them, because individual mandate is 3 that the biggest reduction in the uninsured, if 4 you look at that exhibit, is among residents
5 that are under -- at or under a hundred percent 6 of the federal poverty level. That is primarily 7 due to our new product -- our new public 8 coverage for the childless adults.

9 In addition, a nuance is we 10 realized there are some parents who aren't 11 eligible for family care because they are recent 12 immigrants. We are making that population 13 eligible for this product as well, if you are 14 under a hundred percent of poverty. So that's 15 where you get your biggest gain -- or your 16 biggest reduction in the number of uninsured.

17 Again, under tier 1, your 18 smallest reduction is residents over 400 percent 19 of federal poverty level.

20 While we have insurance premiums,
21 we do not have access to the premium subsidies, 22 and we do not think that you will see a big 23 increase in the take-up due to insurance markets 24 that are low.

1 In addition, children do not
2 really have a new coverage option under tier 1
3 because they have access to coverage through All 4 Kids. So when you look at that chart you will 5 see that our new options are not reducing 6 uninsurance among children. But you have to 7 keep in mind that they have an option in 2007
8 called All Kids that is providing them with 9 access to coverage.

10 Now, merely because they were so 11 large to begin with, the largest group of 12 remaining uninsureds are full-time workers, 13 because almost all uninsured people are 14 full-time workers ages 22 to 44; and they are 15 probably childless. So that's kind of the group 16 that remains the largest, even though they have 17 seen a percent in reduction commensurate with 18 some other groups. But they started out being 19 the largest.

20 Under tier 2 you can again get 21 the impact of the mandate with much higher 22 take-up of the coverages. So it's not going to 23 cost anything. That's the good news.

24 These costs are lower than the

1 old hybrid, due to some of these assumptions
2 that we have been describing to you. The total
3 cost, not surprisingly, varies between A and B
4 and 1 and 2. That was one of the major reasons 5 that we offered you these options. This is the 6 cost to the state. It included outlays that are 7 getting matched by federal Medicaid or SCHIP
8 match and none-matched state expenditures.

9 Option B is much less expensive.

10 Okay?

11 Now, due to the fact that the 12 coverage that's being subsidized is less
13 expensive for the people getting premium
14 subsidies, the cost for the people in our public 15 program options is the same between option A and 16 B. So it's only a portion of the newly-covered 17 that we can attribute that reduction in cost, or 18 that lower expense.

19 So we are spending 2,500 for 20 participants down here, and over 3,000 per 21 participant under option A. And under tier 1, 22 if you recall, these are almost all people who 23 are previously uninsured, because we don't have 24 that many insured people coming in.

1 MS. MURPHY: If you change your 2 numbers to be per newly-insured, which of them
3 vary a lot?

4 MS. TAYLOR: Well, these numbers here
5 would probably go up slightly. Those numbers
6 are available to you in Exhibit 10? In Exhibit
7 10. These would go up slightly.

8 These would go up quite a bit;
9 and the reason is that, under tier 2 we do not 10 have crowd-out provisions; we are covering a lot 11 more people who have coverage now.

12 So the overall population and the 13 newly covered population don't align as closely 14 as they do here. These numbers are higher on a 15 per-person basis if you only look at those who 16 are newly covered.

17 Under tier 2 overall, though,
18 whether you look at it on the basis of cost per 19 newly-covered participant or cost per 20 participant overall, the cost under tier 2 go 21 down, because we are -- primarily because we 22 don't have a crowd-out provision for the subsidy
23 of employer-sponsored coverage. We bring in a 24 lot of those people. And the cost per person is

1 very low, because the employer's still paying 2 their share. The employee still has a share to 3 pay. So the amount is being subsidized. It's 4 quite small, which you can also see in Exhibit
5 10. And so that's why the per person cost is a 6 lot lower, regardless of what population put it 7 over in tier 2.

8 MR. ROBBINS: And the difference
9 between tier 2 option A and option B is simply 10 what you are going to pay for that same care; is 11 that right? You are going to pay less?

12 MS. TAYLOR: Yes, you are paying less,
13 because a portion of the population
14 participating in the new coverage options cost 15 is going to be much less expensive providers
16 than they did compared to option A.

17 MR. ROBBINS: How do you come to that 18 conclusion?

19 MS. TAYLOR: You're going to 20 commercial providers, the none-public options.
21 So this is what we call premium assistance.

22 Under option A you are going to 23 commercial providers. Under option B --

24 MR. ROBBINS: When you say "provider"

1 are you talking about insurance companies or 2 care providers?

3 MS. TAYLOR: Care providers.

4 MS. DAVIDSON: It's really the issue
5 of what the rates to those providers are based 6 on.

7 You understand that providers
8 serve a variety of, you know, large --

9 MS. TAYLOR: Right. Thank you, Gwynn.

10 MS. DAVIDSON: But the other issue in 11 the option B is that there's lower 12 administrative expenses for the premium
13 assistance, because it's done commensurate
14 through the state, it's not solely on reduction 15 and cost based on provider payments.

16 MS. TAYLOR: Well, it's that the 17 coverage program is tiered through the state.
18 Because the premium assistance is tiered through 19 the state in both cases.

20 MR. KOEHLER: I have a question here.
21 Niva had a question here.

22 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: I'm just curious 23 as to why we were presented a tier 1 where the 24 coverage was only 32 percent of the uninsured,

1 after you heard, although not passed, sentiments
2 expressed the two providers on this task
3 force -- physician providers on this task force
4 sentiments about not dwelling much on options
5 that didn't honor the mandate of the Act?

6 MS. DAVIDSON: Let me answer that.

7 MS. TAYLOR: Sure.

8 MS. DAVIDSON: We felt to achieve that 9 level of coverage you needed to go to your 10 moderate consensus items, the individual mandate 11 and employer assessment. And we felt that 12 because those were moderate consensus items, 13 that we wanted to show the impact of those 14 policies so they could be better discussed.

15 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: So tier 1 was the 16 high consensus policy, and tier 2 includes 17 moderate consensus to get more coverage?

18 MS. TAYLOR: Right.

19 MR. KOEHLER: Just a minute. Another 20 question here.

21 Catherine.

22 MS. BRESLER: I just want to make sure
23 that I have this straight too.

24 It appears to me -- and I am way

1 confused right now. But it appears to me that 2 one of the cost differences between option A and 3 option B is that in option A you are forcing 4 carriers to provide, on a guaranteed issue 5 basis, some comprehensive standard plan, which 6 we have no idea what that looks like. As far as 7 I can tell, there is nothing in here that 8 details what the comprehensive plan looks like.
9 That's option A.

10 Option B, where the State is 11 putting together some plan that you are 12 presuming is going to cost less to administer, I 13 don't know how you are going to provide 14 subsidies to all these people without it costing 15 anything to administer. But that's your 16 presumption. But it appears to me that the 17 State is not having to comply with this 18 comprehensive benefit package. So the result, 19 as I see it, is that you've got an option A that 20 forces carriers to offer mandate on a guaranteed 21 issue basis an expensive comprehensive medical 22 plan. And the alternative is "or they can go to 23 the state and get a real cheap plan."

24 MS. TAYLOR: So the scope of covered

1 services and the cost sharing is exactly the 2 same between the product being offered -- what 3 we call "state self-insured product" and the 4 product that we are requiring the carriers to 5 offer under option A.

6 We have specifics on that plan
7 design with us, although that is by no means 8 cast in stone. That would obviously be for the 9 Task Force to determine what represented a 10 comprehensive plan, which was one of the high 11 consensus items that it had to be a 12 comprehensive plan. So it is the exact same 13 plan designed with the exact same cost sharing.

14 If I didn't make that clear, I 15 apologize.

16 And the reason we assume the 17 administrative costs are lower is that, as we 18 have been using the same assumptions we've been 19 using all along, we believe that administrative 20 costs in the Medicaid program, even accounting 21 for fraud and abuse, are still lower than is 22 achieved by commercial carriers. And so we 23 believe there is a savings there.

24 MS. BRESLER: And there has been

1 testimony contrary to your presumption that the 2 administrative cost is lower, number one.

3 And number 2, my recollection is 4 while we did -- part of the Act did dictate that 5 there were comprehensive medical benefits. And 6 the point is to provide medical coverage. I
7 don't think there was any discussion about a 8 mandated plan of standardized benefits.

9 I don't think there was -- that 10 discussion ever took place. I think the 11 discussion was comprehensive medical benefits, 12 not a mandated standardized benefit plan.

13 MS. TAYLOR: Uh-huh.

14 MR. KOEHLER: Let's move on.

15 MS. TAYLOR: I think we are on the 16 last side.

17 I think we've already made this 18 point, which was simply we wanted to show the 19 impact, which gets a little bit diluted at the 20 overall level.

21 The real difference between 22 options A and B really lies in the cost of state 23 subsidies in the nongroup market, because most 24 of the take-up of this option is going to be in

1 that market. And so, this is the cost per 2 participant, if you pull that out of Exhibit 10.
3 And I just wanted to show you guys that it's 4 about a 40 percent difference in cost as we 5 modeled it, which includes some controversial 6 assumptions.

7 MR. ROBBINS: And what percentage of 8 that difference is attributable to lower 9 provider payments versus lower administrative 10 costs, in option B?

11 MS. TAYLOR: That's a good question.
12 Let me see if I can answer it during lunchtime.

13 Okay. That's it. David, I am 14 done.

15 MR. KOEHLER: Questions?

16 Yes, Mike?

17 MR. MURPHY: I think it's appropriate 18 to ask, but also in reading the package that is 19 redistributed in a reinsurance component of 20 this, and I think was funded by tax on insurance 21 carriers, is that what is contributing to some 22 of the lower costs inside the state program?

23 MS. TAYLOR: No. No. The assessment
24 of carriers only goes to fund the voluntary

1 reinsurance program. It does not fund the 2 subsidies.

3 MR. KOEHLER: Any questions before we 4 break for lunch?

5 MS. DAKER: How does this plan that 6 you put together go with the things that we 7 weighted before? Because I was looking at one 8 like wellness, which we had assigned ten points, 9 but I forget the weight.

10 When I look through here, that's 11 one of the biggest cost cutting things that can 12 happen for a program that keeps people well, as 13 evidenced by the VA program that is successful.
14 But I see little in there about control costs.
15 So how are the weighted things originally still 16 in here? Are they still in that same 17 proportion?

18 MS. DAVIDSON: This exercise really 19 concentrated on the consensus items as opposed 20 to the different weighted items.

21 MS. DAKER: But it was in the original 22 items.

23 MS. DAVIDSON: I would say that for 24 wellness --

1 Well, I mean, to back up to your 2 question, we haven't done a crosswalk in this 3 document back to those items. Certainly some of 4 them had very high weights. But increases in 5 the provider payment and timeliness are 6 reflected here.

7 In terms of wellness, I would say
8 that we have expansions of public programs that 9 have the financial components and that, you
10 know, we have supports for preventative care 11 services. The packages are -- the comprehensive 12 package that's subsidized contains preventative 13 services.

14 MS. DAKER: With the history of the VA
15 that's one of most successful things controlling 16 costs overall, and we still have to afford this.
17 We did weight it very heavily originally. It 18 doesn't seem to be reflective in here; other 19 than if they come in for a regular check-up, 20 that's it. There is nothing to (inaudible) them 21 to do that.

22 MR. KOEHLER: Niva.

23 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: In reference to 24 the high consensus item of (inaudible) and

1 distribution of providers, I think when that was 2 agreed to in high -- well, agreed to be in place
3 as an item, my thought, when it was previously 4 discussed, was that there would be some 5 provision in whatever plan to ensure that those 6 who are part of the underrepresented population, 7 persons of color, that there would be some 8 provisions in the plan that would help allow for 9 increase in those numbers, you know, in a state 10 where over 20 percent of the population of 11 persons of color, and we know the persons 12 providing the care, be they physicians, 13 dentists, nurses, pharmacists, physical 14 therapists, or whomever, are probably 5 percent 15 or less of the population. When this was placed 16 originally in as an item, that was the thought 17 behind this also, not just loan payment or some 18 other incentives to serve in underserved areas.
19 It was also by how do you put persons in the 20 pipeline, you know, to serve those populations.

21
22 REPRESENTATIVE COULSON: I just want
23 to be real clear on the new state costs, because 24 I'm just finally getting down to the bottom.

1 This is what it would cost the 2 State of Illinois in our current budget. It
3 does not include the assessments or anything
4 else? Is that accurate?

5 MS. TAYLOR: Well, in tier 2, where 6 employer assessment is in place, the state cost 7 is net of that assessment. In other words,
8 assuming that assessments were available to you 9 to fund the subsidies and the program in 10 general, this is what extra (inaudible) would 11 have to be found. And it's in --

12 REPRESENTATIVE COULSON: Tier 1 it's 13 not?

14 MS. TAYLOR: No, there is no
15 assessment in tier 1.

16 REPRESENTATIVE COULSON: Basically 17 what you are saying is this is what we would 18 have to find in the state budget in order to do 19 this?

20 MS. TAYLOR: Correct. I think that is 21 correct.

22 REPRESENTATIVE COULSON: Getting clear.

23 MR. KOEHLER: Art.

24 Jim, I'm going to ask if we can

1 have -- We have two department heads here that 2 want to make a comment as well. So Task Force 3 members first.

4 Art.

5 DR. JONES: Look at net impact on 6 providers as a group. Is it zero? And if it is 7 zero, who are the winners? Who are the losers?
8 Are the losers the ones that have a much higher 9 insured population? Who's the winners? Who's 10 the losers? And what's the group provider as a 11 whole? What's the --

12 MS. TAYLOR: You mean across the whole 13 state?

14 DR. JONES: Across the whole board,
15 all providers to start with. Is it neutral?

16 MS. TAYLOR: I think that we are not 17 reducing --

18 I don't think there is a net
19 reduction in care that is reimbursed through 20 commercial insurance. So that reimbursement 21 stays the same. And there is an increase in 22 care that is covered -- well, it stays the same
23 or higher. It will be higher under option A.
24 And there is a reduction in uncompensated care.

1 And that made under -- under option A that 2 represents -- it's now being compensated at 3 typical commercial rates.

4 Under option B some of that care
5 is being compensated at these enhanced Medicaid
6 rates.

7 MR. KOEHLER: Jim.

8 MR. DUFFETT: Yes, two things. One is 9 I guess an interesting layout that you did here.
10 I surely was under the impression that what we 11 were going to be getting was going to be 12 something that had high and medium together
13 versus just making like the whole tier 1 thing.

14 I kind of find that a little 15 disconcerting.

16 My questions -- the other
17 question is -- and maybe you guys have done 18 this. I apologize. I have not looked on the 19 website. But it'd also be interesting to see, 20 if we do nothing, what happens to the State's 21 budget? What happens to the number of 22 uninsured? What happens to costs overall?

23 I thought in the contract there 24 was something that you guys were going to

1 provide us, like what would happen in five years
2 or ten years, in terms of the State of Illinois;
3 in terms of the impact on uncompensated care,
4 the number of uninsured, the growth of the state 5 budget on health care costs, and all that.

6 Was that something that we are 7 still going to be getting from you guys? Was 8 that in the contract? Do you know or you 9 guys --

10 MR. KOEHLER: My understanding, we had 11 talked about that.

12 MR. CARVALHO: Check that at lunch.

13 MR. DUFFETT: That would be a helpful 14 thing as we are looking at this, to be able to 15 counter. And I am not sure if --

16 In that context, I know if we did
17 have some form of affordable, accessible health
18 care, I know at least $362 of my automobile 19 insurance would hopefully no longer be there, 20 because I am covering people. And there's all 21 those other side costs that would be interesting 22 for all of us to be able to kind of balance off, 23 you know, the new costs that need to occur, and 24 then other savings that would be there.

1 MR. KOEHLER: Let's look at that.

2 And before we break for lunch, we 3 have two department heads here. Michael Gray
4 (phonetic), Department of Insurance, and Ann
5 Marie Murphy.

6 You had a question?

7 MS. MURPHY: It related a little bit
8 back to when Niva was talking about only 9 32 percent, which is a good question, 10 considering that.

11 It struck me that maybe -- maybe
12 they should answer that partially, that if you 13 take all the things that we all like, or 14 different people find, that it starkly
15 demonstrates that you can't get to a high level 16 of coverage without the second tier; things that 17 we are all a little scared of, which are the 18 mandates. And that actually is a really stark
19 way of putting that you can't get home 20 unfortunately without some stakes.

21 MS. DAVIDSON: When we did call them
22 tier 1 and tier 2, I think our main goal is we 23 know the individual mandate in employer
24 assessment were sticky topics, and we really

1 wanted to be able to show the impact of those.

2 We thought that was a useful piece of 3 information. That's why we broke them out.

4 It's certainly not to say that we think you

5 should only implement tier 1. That's really --

6 I know the way we present it sort 7 of leads you to think: Well, what happens if we 8 were only to implement tier 1? But our 9 objective is really to be able to show you the 10 impact of those additional policies.

11 MS. SREKOVICH: And when we started 12 this -- We originally started it as a phase in 13 where there would be some initial reform, and as 14 we have described in tier 1, and then a gradual 15 or some -- you know, some kind of step to tier 2
16 that could be accomplished over a longer period 17 of time, just because of the dollars associated 18 with those implementation of firms.

19 MR. KOEHLER: Let's break for lunch.

20 One more question.

21 MR. ROBERTS: I have a question.

22 MR. KOEHLER: Mike said he didn't have 23 anything. Anybody else?

24 Mike.

1 MR. MURPHY: Quick question for 2 Dr. Murphy. I know she is here on behalf of 3 members of the Governor's cabinet.

4 Is an employer mandate something
5 that the administration has decided that is one 6 of those unpleasant things we need to --

7 MS. MURPHY: I don't think any 8 decisions are being made at the Governor's 9 office. All the agencies will consider all the 10 options, and are very interested in the 11 deliberation of the Task Force.

12 Obviously, as we all know, the 13 Governor has had a longstanding commitment to 14 health care. And now over a half a million more 15 people have health insurance due to our efforts.
16 But we are very interested in listening to all 17 the different viewpoints here.

18 MR. KOEHLER: Let's break for lunch
19 and come back in 20 minutes.

20 (A break was taken.)

21 MR. KOEHLER: Can we reconvene?

22 I was really hoping at this point 23 to be able to turn the meeting back over to 24 Wayne.

1 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: Psyche. You
2 believed that e-mail, huh?

3 MR. KOEHLER: I guess let me start
4 with sharing a couple of observations and maybe 5 true confessions here. I am not quite exactly 6 sure how we proceed into this next discussion.
7 Got a lot of things on the table.

8 I sense that there is -- if not 9 certain anxiety, certain level of frustration, 10 at least some confusion about where we are? And 11 are we making progress? Are we taking step 12 back? Where are we?

13 Let me just float this out and 14 see if this is a good starting point.

15 I'd like to go around the room
16 and ask people to just make a brief comment 17 about what has been presented in terms of if 18 this is acceptable to you in any way, shape or 19 form.

20 Let me put it this way: If this 21 has some possibility of being acceptable to you, 22 what would you like to see changed about either 23 added focus, narrowed, whatever?

24 It may not be acceptable to you,

1 and that's fine too. That's your prerogative.
2 But I would like to have Navigant maybe put some 3 of these issues on the Board so we can begin a 4 starting point for our discussion.

5 Does that make sense? Anybody
6 got a better idea?

7 MS. MITROFF: I have kind of a
8 question going through this. Maybe I missed 9 something. But we are talking like this is the 10 only proposal out there. And we have not taken 11 any proposals off the table.

12 I think that gets to Jan's
13 comments earlier that, as I was going through 14 some of this, I was thinking: How does this 15 compare to some of the other proposals that we 16 have been contemplating?

17 So I think, you know, what I want 18 to bring up is that really nothing is off the 19 table.

20 MR. KOEHLER: Right. That's a good
21 point. And let me start with my own feelings, 22 just to get this thing rolling. Probably going 23 to go down this side of the table. Fair
24 warning. Going to go around the room here.

1 But my hope is that we can see
2 this new hybrid area as a place where we can 3 begin to fine-tune something that would be 4 acceptable to most of us. I don't think we are 5 all going to be agreeable a hundred percent on 6 anything that comes out of here, but that we 7 would see something that could be worked or 8 reworked, as a possibility of saying, here, this 9 is -- you know, this is what the majority of the 10 Task Force is putting forward, you know, as a 11 recommendation to study.

12 Again, this goes to the 13 Legislature. This can be changed in all types 14 of forms. It could be considered in its 15 entirety or whatever. But at least, as we said, 16 we have struggled with some of the difficult 17 issues. There may be some --

18 All right. I am done.

19 (Dr. Lerner joined the 20 Proceedings.)

21 MR. KOEHLER: This is a way that we 22 have tried to grapple with some of the important 23 and even controversial issues surrounding the 24 whole issue of health care. So if there is

1 anybody to take the heat, let us take the heat, 2 and let the legislators then begin to see what 3 is politically doable. We have got some --

4 You know, Pam is right. There's 5 other issues that -- other proposals that are 6 still on the table, and, you know, we are going 7 to talk about in the Steering Committee. But 8 certainly some minority reports can come forward 9 as different groups see fit. But at least if 10 there is one -- you know, one general consensus 11 of the group -- or majority of the group but not 12 a consensus that says: Here is our idea. Here 13 is what we think the components are of the 14 comprehensive health care plan.

15 Personally, I am kind of 16 overwhelmed at the complexity of what I saw 17 today, and I think that what I need is a lot 18 more explanation as to how some of these things 19 got put together.

20 Because, you know, as I tried to 21 listen to all of you who raised questions about 22 it that really opened up a whole new, you know, 23 avenue of questions for me, you know, especially 24 in terms of some of the numbers that we talked

1 about.

2 I hope we are still on task of 3 trying to complete our mission. And I am 4 feeling a little bit like we are becoming kind
5 of strained in this discussion. But -- And I
6 hope it doesn't become heated or personal. I 7 don't think we will do that, because I think we 8 at least understood that we all have a right to 9 our own opinions. But we are all people here 10 trying to do what we think is the right thing.
11 So let's proceed with this discussion.

12 Wayne, what I am suggesting is we 13 go around the room and we say if this thing is 14 to be at all acceptable to us. And it may not 15 be, but that's one thing we don't know. But if 16 it is to be acceptable to us, what do we think 17 needs to be done to further refine it or enhance 18 it. And that way we make a list of things.

19 By the end of this discussion
20 some of -- you know, all of us can be thinking
21 about what the logical next step is, because I 22 don't know what the logical next step is.

23 I guess that, Wayne, you can kind
24 of give some insight.

1 MS. KANNADY: I guess one item I would 2 comment on that's an area of concern, as I go 3 through the proposals, specific expansion of 4 Medicaid as a hospital that serves large 5 percentage of Medicaid, and given financial 6 challenges the option of expanding Medicaid
7 under the current scenario, is very problematic 8 from the long-term viability perspective for the 9 hospital that I represent.

10 MR. KOEHLER: Record everybody's 11 comments, just to have them on the board.

12 MS. DAVIDSON: Medicine I payment
13 issue.

14 MS. KANNADY: And proposal issue. If 15 you look under option B, expansion of Medicaid, 16 that would be very problematic.

17 MS. DAVIDSON: Expansion for Medicaid
18 and based on those Medicaid provider rates.

19 MS. KANNADY: Even what's proposed 20 with the immigrants.

21 MR. CARRIGAN: In the hospital that 22 provides Medicaid care, then also care to 23 uninsured, one thing that we spend a great deal 24 of time and money on is getting these people

1 that we see come through our emergency 2 department and clinics up to snuff with 3 hopefully trying to find some federal or state 4 insurance, so to speak. So what we are 5 interested in is one simplicity in terms of the 6 resources we have to put in to getting these 7 people insured, whether it be through Medicaid 8 or some other sort of federal funding, and be 9 the maximum number of people that can be 10 insured. Because that decreases costs to us 11 that we can funnel into other areas such as care 12 or access.

13 MR. KOEHLER: Again, going to do a 14 synopsis of that.

15 MS. DAVIDSON: Increase simplicity for 16 hospitals to find coverage options for patients?

17 MR. CARRIGAN: That's right.

18 MS. DAVIDSON: And just increase the 19 number of insureds, and overall increase the 20 number of insureds.

21 MS. TAYLOR: Reduction of 22 uncompensated --

23 MR. KOEHLER: Ken.

24 MR. SMITHMIER: Two things, Dave. I

1 have the same provider sensitivity to Medicaid 2 that was pressed in one specific piece that 3 keeps tugging at me. Maybe it was addressed in 4 the proposal and I just didn't catch it, but:
5 How particularly do we keep small and 6 middle-sized employers in, if they offer
7 insurance now, from dumping that insurance 8 because they see that the chance for their 9 employees to take the Medicaid or the 10 state-funded option is more financially
11 attractive to them? That would be a big issue 12 for us because then we get people moving from 13 commercially insured to Medicaid population.
14 That specific piece --

15 The second thing, Dave, I feel 16 the same way you do, after this morning. I feel 17 like we have gotten to an incredible level of 18 technical complexity now in this conversation, 19 which on one hand is needed, and at the same 20 time is very difficult for a group this size and 21 this mixed to figure out with accuracy, which 22 is, I think, all we really want. We want to 23 know what the facts are; and then we can make 24 our decisions from there.

1 And so, when you talk about other
2 pathways, it feels to me that, to the degree 3 that the public meeting law would allow, some 4 subset of this group, representing different 5 constituencies, who are really familiar with the 6 technical complexities of this, if they can get 7 together and hash through some of this and bring 8 it back to you as a group as a whole, that would 9 be beneficial, to me anyway.

10 MR. KOEHLER: So you are talking about 11 sub-groups without violating the Open Meetings
12 Act that begin to take different pieces of this?

13 MR. SMITHMIER: Right. Because 14 frequently we were appropriately cut off on 15 topics, or we would have been here all morning
16 on one question; yet many of those questions 17 were very good questions that need to be gotten 18 into in great detail, before this task force 19 knows what's X and what's Y. And absent that, 20 it's hard for anybody to really vote.

21 MR. KOEHLER: We have tape? Tape
22 these to the walls?

23 MS. DAVIDSON: Yes.

24 MR. KOEHLER: Oh, it's a Post-It.

1 MS. DAVIDSON: I don't think it's a
2 sticky back.

3 MR. KOEHLER: Cost cutting
4 constituencies.

5 Ken?

6 MR. ROBBINS: I think it was a useful
7 process of giving the two tiers in order for you 8 to contrast what is in tier 1 versus what you 9 can achieve in expansion of coverage if you went 10 to a tier 2.

11 And I think we would be -- I
12 think that it would be appropriate for us to be 13 bold and move toward the more expansive of the 14 approaches. And so I am sort of comfortable 15 with that as a concept.

16 But there are so many questions
17 underneath that that I think need detailed 18 technical work, whether they be impacts on 19 insurance market, impacts on provider community, 20 impact on the uninsured or underinsured.

21 What I fear is that the analysis
22 we have seen so far is what I would describe as 23 static analysis rather than dynamic analysis.
24 So, for example, if you simply said, well,

1 people who are now uninsured and for whom 2 providers get no payment when they treat them
3 would be covered by what I think is inadequate 4 Medicaid payment in the state, that would still 5 be a net improvement for the provider getting 6 something rather than nothing.

7 But I think experience in other 8 locations shows there is a bit of "If you build 9 it, they will come" effect.

10 That is to say, if suddenly full 11 coverage is available, it isn't just what we 12 think the impact of what these lower rates would 13 be with the number of people we see right now, 14 based on some modest assumption about their need 15 patterns. But if those need patterns become a 16 whole lot more like the rest of the population, 17 given that they have also probably got a lot of 18 longstanding unmet medical needs, what is the 19 real impact of that kind of reduced payment
20 mechanism likely to be? That's just one 21 example.

22 I too think that there are a lot
23 of very good technical minds either sitting 24 around this table or could be brought in from

1 the rest of the concerned parties, who could 2 really give a good scrubbing to a lot of the 3 questions that have been made and others not yet 4 raised, to come back to us at a future date with 5 more of these answers provided. And if there 6 are new questions that get raised in this 7 process, that could then be considered.

8 So my view would be very much
9 like Ken's. This has been a good exercise -- a 10 very good exercise up to this point. But it's 11 definitely always in the details. And we need 12 more complete understanding of details and 13 consequences of those details.

14 MR. KOEHLER: Did I hear you say at 15 first you were leaning towards looking further 16 to tier 2 as an example?

17 MR. ROBBINS: Yes. You can then have 18 an opportunity to sit down and work your way 19 through the implications of what that means for 20 all of the affected parties.

21 MR. KOEHLER: So I'm hearing you say
22 that the focus on tier 2 as the model, but do 23 the research and the number crunching?

24 Terry.

1 MR. DOOLING: I agree with focusing on 2 the tier 2 level. I see some process in where 3 we are going. And I like seeing the increments 4 of cost and coverage that we have looked at 5 today.

6 The groups that we look at, I
7 would like to achieve this and to achieve more 8 coverage of the uninsured as our main goal, but 9 at the same time protecting our institutions, 10 our carriers and our providers, that they aren't 11 the ones that bear the full cost of this.

12 I am very concerned about another
13 constituency, that's the employer. And I think 14 this -- The mandate, while I think it's probably 15 necessary to achieve our goal, I think it can't 16 be done in a vacuum. I would like to know the 17 economic impact.

18 I think there are many employers
19 that are above the small employer level that 20 would fall into serious financial difficulty, 21 with the type of assessment that we are talking 22 about. And I am sure there are numbers
23 available. I think we could use technical input 24 on that.

1 I would have a hard time voting
2 in favor of employer assessment, if I had no 3 clue as to what the negative impact would be.
4 If we put 50,000 people out of work, we haven't 5 really helped ourselves.

6 The very simple side of me says
7 maybe this costs several billion dollars; is 8 that right?

9 If we look at the moral aspect of 10 it, just from the state side, if the State picks 11 up the entire cost on the individuals, the 12 employers -- employees of the state, residents 13 of the state, and what is our realistic 14 likelihood of achieving a tax cut, some sort of 15 general revenue increase to provide this 16 coverage for the residents, what would it cost?
17 I am not saying we are voting to do it, but 18 there is the -- that 3.6 million from the state 19 has to come from somewhere. Hopefully, not from 20 someplace that here is just reducing some state 21 funds to cover other areas.

22 DR. LERNER: So you are asking whether 23 we need to be dealing with the sources of the 24 support as well as the amount of support?

1 MR. DOOLING: Yes.

2 MR. KOEHLER: Jan?

3 MS. DAKER: Well, taking from Ken's 4 words, "bold," and "build it and they will 5 come," I happened to see this detailed article
6 on the VA and how they turned themselves around 7 in the last ten years where someone who is 65
8 and older has a 40 percent increase in health, 9 by going to the VA now.

10 So, think of the economic impact
11 if we could switch this around and focus instead 12 of -- the people we use, if they get sick, 13 instead focus on wellness and look at the 14 economic impact that we would have if our people 15 were productive and well. So that's huge for 16 me.

17 I think we've really overlooked
18 it because we think of it the other way. Most 19 of the people in the room only see people when 20 they are sick, but we don't look at it the other 21 way.

22 MR. KOEHLER: Jim.

23 MR. DUFFETT: Well, we all know the 24 access State of Illinois' temperament: A health

1 care plan that provide access to full range of 2 preventive, acute and long-term health care 3 services, maintain and improves the quality of 4 care services offered to Illinois residents, and 5 these other criteria. I mean, that is the 6 mission that is before us.

7 I guess I was taken aback when I
8 first saw this, and was disappointed. But as I
9 was looking at it again this morning around 5:00 10 and re-reading it; and as we went from tier 1 to 11 tier 2, you know, I guess to some degree the 12 approach that I thought was going to be provided 13 today was much different. But I am a little 14 more relaxed about personally how you guys did 15 the tier 1 and tier 2.

16 I also felt that August 15th was 17 a very defining day; that -- because I really 18 thought the approach was going to just take the 19 high and the medium and combine them together.
20 And that is what tier 2 does.

21 While there are many things in 22 tier 2 that I have questions about, and it's 23 like, "Do you throw the baby out with the bath 24 water?" I think some of the comments that Ken

1 had mentioned too about looking at different
2 components of this, I'm not going to lay out 3 what I see the positives and what I see the 4 negatives are.

5 But I really do feel that at our 6 last meeting we moved the yard sticks down the 7 football field. And I'm not looking at us
8 reinventing the wheel and going back to square 9 1. I think we moved beyond that.

10 I would also think that it's also 11 important to state, I would like to see that 12 report.

13 I don't know, Dave, if you saw in 14 the contract or not. I thought there was 15 something that some status quo: If we do 16 nothing, what is impact in five years and ten 17 years to the State of Illinois? And also: What 18 are some of the cost savings that we can see?

19 And again, those may be live
20 numbers. But it would be interesting to see 21 what are those cost savings that we see?

22 And also I think, as other people
23 alluded to: What are the different income
24 sources to try to come up with that extra

1 whatever it is, $2 billion or whatever?

2 And I say that, as I alluded to 3 earlier, there are cost savings that, whether as 4 an individual one has to pay more taxes.

5 I surely hope that Allstate will 6 reduce my automobile insurance a substantial
7 amount because people in the State of Illinois
8 will have health insurance.

9 And even though I know other 10 people in the State drive, I think all those 11 factors are going to be really important to 12 balance, as we come up with the final product.

13 MR. KOEHLER: Pam.

14 MS. MITROFF: I think this proposal
15 takes us in absolutely the wrong direction, with 16 one exception. It's got long-term care 17 partnerships that's the -- 18 MR. KOEHLER: What?

19 MS. MITROFF: Long-term care
20 partnership.

21 MS. ROTHSTEIN: You say that's 22 missing?

23 MS. MITROFF: No, that's the one part 24 that's in there.

1 MR. ROTHSTEIN: You like that?

2 MR. KOEHLER: Catherine.

3 DR. BARBATO: Another 30 seconds takes 4 us in the wrong direction, implication being 5 that the other direction that it ought to go in 6 what --

7 MS. MITROFF: I think we are seeing a
8 movement across the nation to get consumers more 9 involved in their health care. We are seeing a 10 strong movement in making Medicaid be more 11 flexible and more responsive to the individual 12 needs. And this proposal does none of that.

13 MR. KOEHLER: I think it's important
14 to note. Get those on the board.

15 MR. DUFFETT: I want to be sure I know
16 on my notes too. Maybe there is another sheet.

17 Was there anything before you had 18 J up there to look at?

19 MS. DAVIDSON: What are income
20 sources?

21 MR. DUFFETT: I want to note what's up 22 there, I feel that the vote we took on 23 August 15th, that does move us towards those 24 components that are in tier 2. But there are

1 still a lot of questions that I have on option A
2 and option B that need to be dealt with in more 3 detail.

4 MS. DAVIDSON: Support of tier 2 but 5 many questions about A and B.

6 MR. KOEHLER: Catherine.

7 MS. BRESLER: Comment first. And I
8 have to say that I wouldn't --

9 I don't know if I'd take any 10 amount of money to be in Navigant's shoes right 11 now. I respect all the work that you have done, 12 and appreciate the time that you have spent, so 13 I know this is a difficult task.

14 The question I wrote down as we 15 started talking was: Does this hybrid plan have 16 the possibility of being acceptable; and if 17 so -- or if not, what would it take for it to 18 become acceptable?

19 My view is that it's not 20 acceptable. And that's just based on what I
21 think are some unsupported and unsubstantiated 22 presumptions that what is in that plan is really 23 going to increase coverage and decrease cost of 24 care.

1 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: Let her finish.

2 MS. DAVIDSON: Making assumptions and 3 may result in --

4 MS. BRESLER: No, it's just the 5 unsubstantiated presumptions that what's in 6 there is actually going to increase coverage and 7 increase cost of care.

8 MS. DAVIDSON: Okay.

9 MR. KOEHLER: Any -- 10 Clean sheet.

11 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: I would like to 12 agree with what one of the previous members is 13 saying, that I would like the focus to be on 14 tier 2 options.

15 And of course lots of --

16 You know, I know there's a lot to 17 be worked out in it, in the plan itself. But 18 hopefully with answering, you know, the concerns 19 that have been mentioned thus far, that would 20 sort out some of my issues.

21 I would like to say, as I stated
22 before, in terms of the access issue, that there 23 would be some provision in the plan that would 24 look at increasing putting more persons of color

1 in the pipeline to be health care providers in 2 this state, to make sure that there is adequate 3 access. Because I don't think that -- that 4 process doesn't start when someone is out of 5 school, out of residency practicing working in a 6 hospital.

7 You got to incentivize people.
8 Make it affordable for them to do the training, 9 go to school, do the training to provide care.

10 So I would hope that that 11 consensus item is developed a bit more fully in 12 reference to that.

13 MR. KOEHLER: Mike.

14 MR. MURPHY: First of all, Dave, let 15 me thank you for allowing us this catharsis.

16 MR. KOEHLER: He is thanking me.

17 A little bit louder, Mike.

18 MR. MURPHY: I have many concerns, but 19 I think a lot of them are (inaudible). And I'll 20 preface it by saying, I think all of us are here 21 for the same purpose. We all really wanted to 22 bring something to the table that we thought 23 increased health care.

24 I think when divergence of

1 opinion occurs, whether you think the public
2 sector does a better job or the private sector
3 does a better job of that, I think what is 4 reflected in the proposal is somewhat a
5 nearsighted view that the problem with health 6 care and the costs associated therewith are with 7 the industry that finances those costs.

8 And I think that it takes away
9 more opportunity to really get at the benefits 10 that can be achieved through doing things to 11 enhance personal choice, and personal
12 responsibility, and getting people reconnected 13 to their own health care, and what the costs are 14 associated with that. And I think we have 15 missed a lot of that opportunity here, by 16 focusing in on the financing industry in health
17 care.

18 I think --

19 I don't think it's going to be 20 any more productive. I think it's actually 21 counter-productive. It would be no more 22 productive than if we were trying to increase 23 the ability for people to afford homes by 24 focusing then on the mortgage. Therein lies the

1 crux of the problem. I think that's what this 2 proposal does.

3 DR. LERNER: I have a question, just a
4 clarifying question, Mark, Ken, back to Pam's 5 comment: Are you suggesting that -- I don't 6 want to put words in your mouth -- but, are you 7 suggesting that either extreme, not all public 8 versus all private is not the right way to go,
9 but that some accommodation that improves 10 personal responsibility, consumer item, that 11 private market as well as where it's necessary, 12 a public-oriented program, that is something 13 that you would focus on?

14 MR. MURPHY: Yes. I think the current 15 system allows for that. And I think the 16 proposal was ostensibly thought to represent in 17 some way the insurance industry, both public and 18 privately.

19 DR. LERNER: Thank you.

20 MS. DAVIDSON: Could I read that back
21 what to make sure I am reflecting your comment?

22 I have enhanced spending and 23 bring people close to cost of their care. We 24 have gotten away from this in model by focusing

1 on those that finance the system, allow for 2 public and private options.

3 MR. MURPHY: I think Dr. Lerner
4 offered the last point.

5 DR. LERNER: That's right. Could you
6 agree?

7 MR. MURPHY: We can go into -- 8 I agree with what was said at the 9 start of the exercise.

10 I think basically, although in 11 Medicaid programs that I think -- that are 12 already operated under a consent decree that 13 they basically alluded to the fact because of 14 payment structure is not providing people with 15 primary care that they need; and building on 16 that I think is -- it will be helpful to the 17 State of Illinois.

18 MR. ROBBINS: If this is inappropriate
19 then --

20 MR. KOEHLER: I don't want to break
21 the flow.

22 MR. ROBBINS: More clarification for
23 Mike.

24 When you -- And I am not trying

1 to argue, I just want to understand.

2 When you say that allowing the 3 private sector to do certain things, do you
4 think there is a way that the private sector
5 could achieve the expansion of care of a bold 6 nature rather than a more modest nature?

7 Modest may be all we can do. I
8 am not trying to argue the point, I am trying to 9 understand whether that private approach has an 10 end point that's comprehensive.

11 MR. MURPHY: I think we can do some 12 things that would be considered bold maybe by 13 us, maybe not by you. But I think over time 14 incrementally would get us to a point that we 15 are significantly getting a solution to the 16 problem.

17 I don't think it would be over --

18 But I don't think any of the 19 proposals we have seen here would have that 20 result either.

21 MR. ROBBINS: Okay.

22 MR. KOEHLER: Joe.

23 MR. ROBERTS: Mike sort of stole my 24 thunder.

1 I want to bring up one thing that 2 Jan brought up -- and I thank you, Jan -- up to 3 this point has always talked about looking at 4 the issue of health care crisis here in Illinois
5 as an insurance issue, and a cost (inaudible).
6 Haven't talked about overall costs of health 7 care; and what are the factors that affect that 8 cost. So the wellness aspect that Jan was 9 talking about, a significant part of this whole 10 process that we haven't even talked about yet, 11 we need to look at the costs of health care, not 12 necessarily how those costs are being funded.
13 And the proposal that was presented just shifts 14 the burden and doesn't necessarily affect this.

15 Also I want to comment on Terry's 16 issue that the impact economically that this 17 product will specifically have on insurance
18 carriers and on employers need to be reviewed 19 significantly. Because we cannot propose a plan 20 that is going to have a negative impact on our 21 employers. It would be a crucial mistake on our 22 part.

23 DR. LERNER: First of all, let me
24 introduce myself. William Lerner, for the

1 record. If you didn't receive the e-mail, I
2 apologize for not being here. I had a funeral 3 attendance. Thank you, Dave, for continuing to 4 do so.

5 Besides the one I gave Mike, and 6 I'll take credit for it, putting it in Mike's 7 path, worried about when we are looking at 8 policy changes always is to try and to subject 9 the unintended consequences of any of the 10 actions that we are trying to look at.

11 We know -- we think we know the 12 intended consequences of what we are trying to 13 achieve, but it's the unintended consequences 14 usually that cause us some problems. To the 15 extent we can forecast them at all, I think it 16 would be helpful to back us up, rethink the 17 model and move us forward.

18 And I also want to congratulate 19 Navigant/Mathematica Enrollment for helping us 20 to get to this stage of the game, because 21 there's nothing easy about what we are dealing 22 with.

23 MR. KOEHLER: Just a quick comment. I
24 guess I'll go back to how we started this

1 process with the innerspace discussion. And 2 part of that is: How do I help you achieve your 3 interest as well as you helping me achieve mine?

4 And I think that what I have 5 heard especially from the people involved in the 6 insurance and underwriters' point of view, I 7 guess that's what I really would like to see, is 8 how we can take and make this thing work for you
9 as well. Because I don't want you folks shut 10 out of the process. I would like to see us try 11 to really maximize, as much as we can, whatever 12 way we are going.

13 Talked about tier 2. I think 14 that's worth exploring further. But how do we 15 make sure we have as much interest as we can 16 accomplish as possible? If that means taking a 17 new look at the private insurance market and how 18 it might be, you know, reworked to fit into 19 this, then that's what I would like to see.

20 Ruth.

21 MS. ROTHSTEIN: Kind of worries me a 22 little bit. I don't think we have to make 23 anybody happy. I think we have to find the best 24 solution to ensure the maximum number of people

1 in the State of Illinois, for the best possible
2 program that we can put together. So I think 3 that's more serious than anything.

4 I started out this morning being 5 confused by the complexity of the proposal. I
6 still am confused. I still have some problems 7 with the complexity. Because I think one of the 8 reasons we were never able to come up with the 9 plan, always was too damn complex. People don't 10 understand. Legislators don't want to deal with 11 it. And it affects everybody's own personal 12 needs.

13 I have a problem again how to 14 figure out the best possible system that meets 15 the needs of a hundred percent of people that we 16 deal with.

17 Tier 1, tier 2. Tier 2 is better
18 than tier 1, so I am for that. But I think 19 that --

20 I wanted to just say, and I will 21 give it up, Congressman Davis, when he used to 22 be a commissioner, used to say at every 23 commission meeting, whether it be problems with 24 money and budgets and public policy and how to

1 maximize, he would say, everyone wants to get 2 into heaven but nobody wants to die to get 3 there.

4 MS. DAVIDSON: How about support of 5 tier 2? How about some support of tier 2 6 concern about complexity?

7 MR. DUFFETT: And getting to heaven.

8 DR. YOUNG: Well, I would characterize 9 a very thoughtful presentation, and give 10 accolades to New York's tax. And comments from 11 all parts of the room demonstrated what happens 12 if you try and solve this problem without having 13 a single-payer.

14 Everything falls into place.
15 That instance (inaudible) applies to the 16 problem. At least in one instance I felt you 17 had to go to the (inaudible) but the low voting 18 group to balance the budgets, and should have 19 done that. Take single-payer off the bottom and 20 see how you would work, it would be magnificent.

21 I have a lot of ideas. But they 22 do represent some old hat, that is to say these 23 things don't work. That is to say employer 24 mandate. You heard the beginnings of the 1 worries about that just in this first round.

2 Individual mandate is a no
3 starter. It doesn't work. People you are 4 trying to insist -- and does still run this,
5 prime money for insurance, even subsidized 6 insurance, don't have insurance because they 7 don't even have the money to have it. So it's 8 kind of an internal contradiction that they 9 can't get over.

10 Word complexities were used a
11 lot. I echo that. It is unnecessarily complex.
12 But that's what you are forced to do. You know
13 like a menu 1 from column A and 2 from column B
14 to get to the goal. You must get to the goal.
15 You charged for the meeting. Jim charged us
16 because excellent in the writing and reminds us 17 at the end of our deliberations what our task 18 is, and I hope we do it.

19 Another remark. The money is 20 screwed. You are asking for billing to the 21 state. That is scrapped.

22 You are asking larger amounts for 23 people whose employers have demonstrated 24 inability to put aside money for insurance. And

1 I think it's dead on arrival in the way it came 2 out here.

3 I am going to, of course, give 4 the Legislature a chance to see what's 5 undoubtedly minority. Maybe a miracle will 6 happen and become majority. See that 7 single-payer with simplicity, elegance and 8 problem solving qualities given to legislators 9 for their consideration.

10 I defy anybody on the commission 11 that wants to join me in that, I will be glad to 12 have it, in another --

13 MS. DAVIS: Another task. I sat on 14 the task force for Stroger (inaudible) task 15 force.

16 The county system is rapidly
17 becoming a state system. They are going from 18 every county in Illinois. They are busting at 19 the seams. And to me I feel I want to put a 20 face on the needs for us to reach a consensus to 21 introduce to the Legislature, because people are 22 suffering.

23 The issue of quality for me, I
24 did not see it in the proposed plan; therefore,

1 I cannot, as a public health professional, see 2 where we are going to decrease disparities and 3 promote longevity. So that's an issue that I 4 would like to see happen.

5 I would like to second Dr.
6 Lubin's issue of dealing with people of color in 7 the pipeline, as well as in the distribution 8 throughout the state.

9 We have so many Spanish-speaking
10 residents in our state, as well as Rock Island, 11 62 other language areas. And those individuals 12 live here.

13 So in our plan we have to produce
14 people that are going to provide quality
15 services and have indicators that would monitor
16 this.

17 And I agree with Joe and Jan
18 that -- and Mike that it can't be just about 19 insurance. We have to put some other meat on 20 the table.

21 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: Can I add some 22 things to mine?

23 I am number ten. And there is 24 room.

1 MR. KOEHLER: And it's quick.

2 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: It is quick.

3 I would like to echo Jan's
4 concern about wellness and preventative 5 measures.

6 I am number ten. Over on the 7 end. Wellness and prevention measures.

8 DR. BARBATO: Do this quickly. There 9 is clearly more than one solution to what it is 10 we are going to do. And I would be quick to 11 wind up behind Quentin's pitch for a 12 single-payer system, if our only objective is to 13 employ equal access to high-quality health care, 14 that is a setting.

15 There is a, in my lifetime, sense
16 of what it is that I think needs to be able to 17 be achieved to be able to get off the pot right 18 now and improve health care for everyone in the 19 State. And my practical observation is that 20 it's going to continue to require more private 21 and public interest; is going to continue to 22 require more money than is being committed to 23 the --

24 The question is: Whose money is

1 it going to be that makes it possible to get off 2 the spot that we are on currently?

3 I share the concerns expressed
4 about what will necessarily be under the -- this 5 last iteration of the hybrid proposal.

6 And expansion really depends on 7 Medicaid. So the question of whether or not, 8 under a different model, Medicaid is going to 9 provide a great level of coverage services than 10 they are currently, it's not adequate. That 11 remains largely unanswerable.

12 And some of the suggestions today
13 about what it would require to revamp Medicaid 14 rates inclusive of the different kind of waiver, 15 I think poses a huge series of questions and 16 challenges for us.

17 Whether or not the participation
18 of other insurance industry, insurance markets
19 and employers works for either of those groups
20 that we framed the question, I haven't come up 21 with the answer. So we are left with a -- We 22 are left with the need for far more detail than 23 the -- of the sensitivity analysis, to get some 24 sense of how much the Medicaid program might

1 expand; what the rates will be in order to be 2 able to make it doable for the providers; what 3 exactly is acceptable or workable for the 4 insurance markets; what exactly is workable for 5 employers. So I think we have the right 6 categories.

7 But as someone always said, we 8 have got two-dimensional analysis for something 9 that's three dimensional.

10 MR. KOEHLER: We are going to pause
11 right now to switch the reporters.

12 (PAUSE.)

1 DR. LERNER: All right. We're back.
2 Under the Open Meetings Act, they're certainly 3 allowed to fill. Ken, you're next.

4 MR. BOYD: Okay. When I look at this 5 hybrid model, I represent working men and women
6 out there. That's what I do. And when I look 7 at tier one, it only covers 32 percent of the 8 people. Tier two covers 89 percent, which 9 number-wise looks really good.

10 My concern is with the individual
11 mandates because we're going to look at people 12 who can't make those decisions right now for 13 themselves. They don't have health care. They 14 don't know what they're going to do, how they're 15 going to do it. But yet, we are going to put 16 this ownership of society (phonetic) on all 17 these people.

18 And I have some other concerns
19 because, as Ken said, when you build it they 20 will come. And what I do everyday is I work 21 with employees and negotiate with employers, and 22 I see a rush all the time of going down to the 23 lowest common denominator and somehow there is 24 going to be a will, there is going to be a way,

1 where employers will be able to get out of their 2 quality health care program and put it back onto 3 the State under the Medicaid program.

4 This not only affects the quality
5 of coverage we have for the people in the State 6 of Illinois, but it's going to affect the 7 hospitals. It affects the insurance industry.
8 That affects everybody.

9 And that's one of the unintended 10 consequences that we all have to look at here is 11 by doing that what are we going to do to 12 everybody. It's not just labor. It's not just 13 employers. It's everybody who's out there. And 14 we are charged with quality care.

15 And yes, we should be building
16 quality care networks and making things better 17 for everybody. But by just rushing to say, hey, 18 here's tier two, it's going to cover 89 percent 19 of the people, that is going to open up a 20 Pandora's box of problems for everybody sitting 21 in this room. I truly believe it.

22 You know, if you build it, they 23 will come. I see employers rolling it right 24 back down to getting out of it. Putting it on

1 somebody else because in part of the program
2 there if you didn't offer coverage, then your 3 employees can get subsidies. If you did offer
4 coverage, there is no subsidies. Now, that's 5 going to create a disparity for employers. That 6 hurts everybody. That is going to hurt wages, 7 which affects everything down the line.

8 I mean, you can just start
9 opening up everything we have here. Yes, 10 covering 89 percent of the people, it's truly a 11 benefit that we can have, but I think what we 12 are going to do is destroy more than what we are 13 going to help here with this program.

14 I think there is other problems
15 out there that we have to take a look at so we 16 can cover everybody in the state and all the men 17 and working women in the state and help the 18 employers in the industry in the things we can 19 do.

20 I don't have the easy answer for 21 them. I don't think anybody in this room does, 22 but there has to be a consensus that we can all 23 come together with. But I think this plan here 24 is going to hurt more people and more employers

1 than what's it's going to help.

2 DR. LERNER: Craig.

3 DR. BACKS: I gave a lot of speeches
4 last year as president of the medical society.
5 I am not sure any of them was less important 6 than what I have to say to this group but,
7 hopefully, it will be shorter.

8 A number of things come down to 9 cliches as I think through this material in 10 detail. (Inaudible) -- applies statistics. We 11 can deal with a lot of those. You know,
12 unintended consequences, although I would say 13 there are many things that we might not intend 14 to be a consequence, but I think we are all kind 15 of getting hung up on the unanticipated
16 consequences. If you anticipate some unintended 17 consequences, we might accept them as acceptable 18 if they do fall forward.

19 The two other things that I think 20 do apply though go back to an earlier discussion 21 where I can't remember his name, but he came 22 from one of the think tanks dealing with this 23 and talking about negotiations of moving from no
24 but to yes. In other words, yes, if in my mind

1 says employer or individual mandate. No, but 2 wait a minute. Yes, if it's subsidized by some 3 form of subsidy that's publicly financed.

4 Who among us thought it wasn't
5 going to cost anything to do any of this. I
6 mean, I didn't think so. Somewhere somebody's 7 option is going to go forward in the scenario or 8 at least going to feel that way. Why do that 9 because you're saying that, well, cliché is that 10 sacrifice is just giving up something. It's 11 giving up something good to get something 12 better. So in some sense somebody is going to 13 sacrifice something that's good to them but 14 apparently receive something better in terms of 15 the universal coverage.

16 And then, finally, that the 17 perfect -- I shouldn't say finally. That's the 18 last of the clichés. That the perfect is in the 19 good. I'm really worried about moving backward
20 by worrying about getting it perfect and missing 21 out on the opportunity to do something awfully 22 good.

23 And I don't want to be sitting in 24 the same room maybe ten years from now with the

1 same people saying, you know, my God, we damn
2 near got it perfect. Or even not in this room 3 but saying that we were part of a process that's 4 accomplished actual coverage. You know, we 5 still got our issues to deal with.

6 And, frankly, the other thing I
7 want to say is I'm kind of glad that our 8 constituency didn't submit a plan that we feel 9 compelled to defend. I really -- I am concerned 10 that once we put forward a plan that we feel 11 compelled to defend it because we have a 12 constituency at home to represent as well.

13 Going to -- one thought on the 14 inequity of subsidized people currently don't 15 buy into insurance and not those that do, even 16 though their incomes are the same. Perhaps some 17 kind of time limit or phase out on that because 18 the point of doing that is to bring more people 19 into this system without using resources to fund
20 people who are already in the system. So just a 21 detailed thought on that.

22 As I look at moving -- clearly
23 moving from tier one to tier two is in my mind 24 the only thing that merits or the only way to

1 honor what we have been doing here is if you
2 settle for tier one I think we offer ourselves 3 really short and accomplished very little for an 4 awful lot of effort.

5 In terms of looking at moving
6 from A to B, as I see it, I don't mean to -- my 7 comments to imply a value judgment one or the 8 other. I just look at it as a choice. Do you 9 want a more private, commercial bend to this as 10 opposed to a government bend, which would be 11 more in the B category.

12 Do you want change that come by 13 negotiations between private parties and between 14 insured providers and employers or do you want 15 to come to an employer process. Both are messy.
16 Just which do you prefer.

17 And with the private commercial
18 side, I think you see more costs but more 19 choices. I am a little concerned that with the 20 B process you might see more cards but -- more 21 insurance cards but not necessarily more care.
22 If you just create the pie to slice it into 23 smaller and smaller pieces, there will be fewer 24 providers providing.

1 So I'm going to save -- I'm going
2 to stop at that. There are a lot of other
3 things I can say, but I do hope that we move 4 forward, that we don't move backward and that we 5 are not getting caught up in the details and we 6 keep the big picture in mind and that we do
7 something good, even if it isn't perfect.

8 MR. KOEHLER: Tracey.

9 MS. PRINTEN: I'm in support of not 10 wanting to be here ten years from now, which is 11 why I support the model as a framework and to 12 really discuss the details. And I may be the 13 only person at the table but I found that tier
14 one, tier two, option A, option B really helpful
15 in looking through a lot of the details and I 16 appreciate it. I think I'm the only one here.

17 DR. BACKS: I'm starting to get there.

18 MS. PRINTEN: The Medicaid -- 19 (inaudible) -- me as well especially when you 20 read about projected access problems that 21 Medicare rates and we are talking about one 22 covering people at Medicaid rates. It just 23 doesn't make any sense to me.

24 There is also one more thing.

1 I'm concerned about specifying in your -- I
2 forget what it was under. But specifying things 3 like leap frog (phonetic) or bridges to 4 excellence, I don't think it's necessary to be 5 that specific about -- I mean, generally you can 6 talk about evidence based physician reviews
7 sorts of quality measures. But I think it's 8 dangerous when you get into specifying which 9 company you're going to use, which consortium 10 you're going to use.

11 MR. KOEHLER: All right, Greg.

12 MR. SMITH: Throughout the process of 13 coming to these meetings, I'd always hoped there 14 would be an opportunity for each of us to kind 15 of give a statement about what we believe and 16 what we hope to accomplish.

17 And I have been thinking about 18 what that -- what that speech would be, and I'm 19 not going to give it today because it would be 20 way too long, and I don't think that I could say 21 things any more eloquently than have already 22 been said.

23 So to stay on task to say what 24 about this model, I simply say that I agree with

1 Pam and Mike and Joe that we need to have a good
2 discussion on potential outcomes or unintended 3 outcomes or whatever we want to call them. We 4 need to address the issues of the overall costs, 5 not just the redistribution of who pays for it.
6 Those are my two main items as far as that.

7 So, basically, to summarize that 8 I wouldn't go with much of anything as far as 9 this particular proposal.

10 MR. KOEHLER: All right. Art.

11 MR. JONES: If I had my preference, I
12 would say we should move toward a single payer 13 before you -- with your last concept. So given 14 that that's how we are going to go, I think that 15 I'm very supportive of the current program with 16 tier two as long as there is a plan B option.

17 I would like to think that the 18 private sector would solve this problem but the 19 bottom line is the last 50 years they haven't 20 solved this problem.

21 You know, we looked to the 22 private sector to solve the problem with the 23 elderly and finally it wasn't until we had 24 Medicare that we solved the problem with the

1 elderly. We looked to the private sector to 2 take care of the poor. It wasn't until we had 3 Medicaid that we had a program for the poor.

4 And if we think the private 5 sector is going take care of the problem with 6 the uninsured, I think is unrealistic. I think 7 they have had the last 50 years. There has been 8 no progress. In fact, they have moved to the 9 opposite direction.

10 I agree with the comments about 11 wellness. But I work at a health center where 12 half our patients have no insurance, and I can 13 tell you that you can talk about wellness all 14 you want. When you have high blood pressure and 15 you can't get your medicines and you can't see a 16 doctor, you can talk all the other kinds of 17 things, fitness centers, whatever, but you have 18 got to have access to basic care. Access to 19 basic care doesn't promote total wellness. I 20 agree with that. But you've got to have access 21 to basic care which our uninsured don't have.

22 The issue of the individual
23 mandate that people have been criticizing I
24 think it depends on how affordable it is, and I

1 think that what I've heard people saying at the 2 testimonies is people wanted affordable care and 3 if the -- you know, for the way this is laid out 4 as far as individual mandate is that the 5 premiums are non-existent if they're below a 6 hundred percent and they are very affordable
7 otherwise. And I think you get people and I
8 think that's what people want.

9 As far as the employer mandate
10 goes, I think the way it's laid out here it's an 11 aggressive. It's eight percent. If you choose 12 not to participate, it's eight percent of the 13 premium, which I think is based upon people's 14 income. I think that's a fair way to do it.

15 I think one of the criticisms of 16 our program now is that, in fact, it's not 17 progressive. If you look at other countries 18 that have -- that are industrializing the 19 percentage of the poor, the rich pay higher 20 percentage of their revenue to support the 21 health care system, and that's what needs to be 22 in this country also. I think the way you've 23 laid it out is progressive. I think it's fair.

24 For me as far as providers, it's

1 kind of nice going at the end because you hear
2 everybody's comments. But it's a little hard 3 for me, and I am a provider, but it's hard for 4 me to look and say we are going to put another 5 four-and-a-half billion dollars, another four 6 billion dollars into the pot and say that we are 7 concerned that there is not going to be enough 8 money for us as my providers to take care of 9 this. There is no reason to think that, in 10 fact, that there is not.

11 I think everybody has to run the 12 systems and everybody is kind of saying, oh, 13 gosh, they're going to take my uninsured
14 population. Now, I'm going to get Public Aid 15 rates. But we are talking about taking the 16 amount of the money that's here and adding four 17 billion dollars, 1.4 from the employer
18 assessment and another -- what's my numbers, 2.6
19 billion from the state.

20 How can we say that there is not 21 adequate resources then to take care of the 22 population. It's another four billion dollars 23 we have going into the pot. In fact, you look 24 at the fact that there may be even more than 1 that because you are now mandating medical loss 2 ratios, use the term, of 15 percent.

3 That means that presumably there 4 will be even more of those insurance dollars for 5 those insurance companies that are making a 6 heavy MOR below 85 percent. Even more of that 7 goes into the system.

8 So I think for us to turn down an 9 opportunity to get those extra dollars that are 10 recognized to go into taking care of the poor, 11 it doesn't -- it's not a valid argument for me.
12 I just don't see it and I'd love to see you run 13 the numbers and tell me different. But to me 14 it's an extra four billion dollars plus going 15 into the system.

16 I would like to see -- the one
17 adjustment I would like to see to the system is 18 that under plan B that employers have the option 19 to buy into that. Because I think that's the 20 competitive thing.

21 The problem with single payer is 22 that it doesn't allow the insurance companies to 23 at least compete. And I understand that we give 24 up some of the efficiencies and we move towards

1 this way but at least give them an opportunity 2 to compete. But make sure they do have to 3 compete.

4 So that if as an employer I
5 decide I want to purchase into part B, I should 6 be able to do that. And then if down the road 7 it turns out that the insurance companies can't 8 compete with that, well, maybe, in fact, maybe 9 it's true.

10 Maybe in fact it is that the 11 administrative cost is only three percent and 12 maybe that's a decision that we need to make and 13 say, hey, we can no longer afford to stay and to 14 put 15, 20 percent to put into administrative 15 profits when it comes to health care.

16 The problem with the private 17 sector is the private sector looks to follow the 18 dollar, okay. And that's just the way the 19 private sector is. You go where the money is.
20 Well, the money is not with the uninsured.

21 So I think that this is an 22 excellent proposal. I think it's one that gives 23 us an opportunity to move towards -- I see the 24 end point of this, quite frankly, is that either

1 insurance companies will change quite a bit.
2 Well, they'll decide it's not profitable to 3 operate in this state. Then we will have one
4 plan which then we get to our single payer
5 system. So that's what I'll say.

6 MR. KOEHLER: Senator Martinez.

7 SENATOR MARTINEZ: Well, as a
8 legislator that is going to be involved in 9 discussions with my other fellow colleagues in 10 the Senate, I think, you know, there is -- I 11 think you said it right when you said that there 12 is -- there has to be a starting point and this 13 is a starting point.

14 I think that we are having 15 discussions. We have been having discussions
16 throughout the last year about this. Everybody 17 has been able to participate. There is not 18 going to be an agreement by everyone here in the 19 room, I don't think.

20 But I think that when the 21 ultimate end plan is to address the issue, there 22 is a lot of great things that are being said
23 here and I think that, you know, we just -- I 24 don't think we are ready to take a vote yet on

1 this. I think there is still work to be done.
2 There is a lot of -- I think you said -- what 3 was it, the complexity of all this information.

4 You know, it's kind of hard to -- 5 for people like myself that is not a provider, 6 that is not an insurance person to really take 7 in and know that every entity out there is 8 getting a fair play in this whole entire 9 scenario that we have here. You know, at the 10 end of the day, you know, we are going to do 11 what this committee takes back.

12 And I think the discussion then 13 would become, you know, among the legislators 14 what -- you know, what the work that everyone 15 here has done which has been great but I think, 16 you know, at the end of the day we really just 17 want to be able to make sure that we provide the 18 services, especially for those that are 19 underprivileged that we have in our community.

20 And, you know, going to a couple 21 of the hearings, you know, the people's voice is 22 they want insurance. They need insurance and I 23 think that we are headed there. We are headed 24 there. We are just not quite there.

1 And I think all the information
2 that we have been able to gather and some of the 3 plans and proposals that have been presented are 4 all well-intended but we still have -- you know, 5 we still have to have more discussions and 6 that's what I want to see happen.

7 I just don't feel that we are 8 quite ready and I think taking a back because we 9 are rushed for time is not the right thing 10 either. This is something that needs to be 11 worked on, and it's never going to be perfect, 12 but at least we are going to be able to agree on 13 some things that are important to the people 14 that we are going to serve.

15 MR. KOEHLER: Senator Trotter. We are 16 just kind of going around and commenting.

17 SENATOR TROTTER: Thank you. One, let 18 me begin with thanking Navigant. Because I
19 think it was very helpful which they laid it out 20 today giving the two different plans, the 21 options. And for someone who hasn't been to all 22 the meetings, it's certainly -- and I don't want 23 to be getting through all that. So I want to 24 thank them for making it -- at least simplifying

1 it at this point.

2 But as pointed out by Senator
3 Martinez, the bottom line is when President
4 Jones volunteered me to be on the task force --

5 SENATOR MARTINEZ: Same with me, okay.

6 SENATOR TROTTER: -- I don't believe
7 that he believed that we will be coming back
8 with a finite plan. That's not how we do
9 business in the General Assembly, but he did 10 expect for us to come back with a plan, a 11 working plan that we could start moving things
12 forward.

13 Certainly don't want to be ten 14 years. You know, we have -- as legislators we 15 have shelf life. You know, we don't have term 16 limits but we have shelf life here.

17 So the thing is I believe that we 18 need to go back with something. I do like plan 19 B. I think one of the things that we have been 20 looking at not just last year, not the year
21 before that, but for the past seems like forever 22 it is coming up with a plan whereas we can 23 deliver a good, solid health care system to 24 those uninsured and underinsured individuals who

1 are amongst us.

2 The accountants, the efficiency
3 experts are always going to find -- try to find 4 a way to circumvent that because they are 5 dealing -- they're looking at the bottom line.

6 But I think we as legislators 7 have a responsibility also to take care or at 8 least try to deliver services to the 12.5 9 million people who live in the state and this is 10 certainly a giant step towards of where we begin 11 and the fights that have been going on through 12 the years, so I think this is very positive what 13 we are doing.

14 In the General Assembly, as you
15 all know, they are all attractive balances. So 16 even when we go back down to Springfield, the 17 conversation that is going on here is going to 18 be going on in our caucuses as well. And so we 19 are -- again, have work to do. But I would like 20 to think and I do know that the President and 21 the others, the principals, would like to see 22 something come out of this.

23 So we certainly can't dump what's 24 been going on and say let's do this for another

1 year because we have come too far to go
2 backwards, as the gentleman said across the room
3 or across the aisle.

4 MR. KOEHLER: Good. Thank you. One
5 moment for a commercial interruption.

6 Can we take a five minute break 7 and come back.

8 (WHEREUPON, a recess was 9 held.)

10 DR. LERNER: Ladies and gentlemen, if 11 I could get your attention. If I could have 12 everybody's attention, I would like to call the 13 meeting back to order.

14 I think that everybody has done a 15 really good job, not only in thinking about and 16 vetting the modified hybrid tiers one or two, 17 options A and B, but laying out 20 some odd 18 concerns, issues, concepts, thoughts that need 19 to be considered as we go forward.

20 The modified hybrid is, in 21 essence, a baseline, and we have taken more than 22 12 months to get to this baseline. We have 23 heard from 21 different sites where we had 24 public hearings, and we have heard a lot of

1 concerns from a lot of different people. It's 2 ridiculous to go backwards, as someone said. We 3 have moved the flag forward, and we need to 4 continue to move forward.

5 There isn't a clear path,
6 however, to get from point A to point B. As we 7 are sitting here with 20 some odd concerns and a 8 lot of material, and for those of you who did 9 see my e-mail, even I after several reads find 10 this to be very complex, and there's a lot of 11 details to be considered.

12 We don't want people to draw 13 lines in the sand. We have worked too hard to 14 develop a high, medium and low consensus items.
15 We have worked too hard to list 90 some odd 16 shared interests several meetings ago where 17 people have talked about what we are trying to 18 accomplish.

19 And Jim Duffett has reminded us
20 very clearly as we do at every meeting what our 21 overall goal is, which is the charge that is 22 before us from the Act.

23 Towards that end, I would like to 24 suggest that this is the right time, potentially

1 with your concurrence, for the task force to 2 consider adjourning and to have you allow your 3 steering committee to meet to talk about two 4 things. One, where do we go from here and how 5 do we get there. Because you've made some 6 really wonderful suggestions and we need to vent
7 that. And two, as I mentioned before, we need 8 to talk about how and where and why we need to 9 go forward with a minority report if the 10 minority report is part of the overall report 11 and if there's some administrative details that 12 need to go into that.

13 Now just to remind you, if you
14 should agree that this would be the right time 15 to adjourn, the steering committee is an open 16 meeting, so anybody that wants to stay can 17 certainly do that. We cannot not adjourn and 18 continue down this path, if you would like. But 19 it seems sensible to allow a small group to take 20 under advisement some of your suggestions and to 21 move forward with that.

22 MR. ROBBINS: I would move to adjourn.

23 MR. SMITH: Second.

24 MR. KOEHLER: Can I have a discussion

1 on that?

2 MR. ROBBINS: I think that's what 3 happens after you make a motion and have a 4 second.

5 MR. KOEHLER: No, I just wanted to ask
6 one point while we are still in the meeting here
7 because we had some suggestions about setting up 8 some subgroups or whatever. In terms of the 9 Open Meetings Act, can we do that and if so how.

10 MR. CARVALHO: Yes, I have collected a 11 couple of questions that you have asked during 12 the morning and afternoon.

13 You can have any number of you 14 meet consistent with the Open Meetings Act. In 15 other words, in an open meeting. So if you
16 wanted a subcommittee focussing on topic A or B 17 to meet with Navigant that's fine. Just so that 18 we have to go through a posting, agenda, notice 19 of minutes would have to be kept and the like.

20 Also, if a number of you less 21 than a majority of the quorum, which a quorum is 22 15, so majority of the quorum is eight, so if 23 any of you are not charged or committee or 24 subcommittee or seven of you are not charged in

1 committee or subcommittee meet, as you may have 2 been doing over the course of the year, that's 3 fine too.

4 But I think you need to be 5 solicitous of Navigant's time, too. You need to 6 do something in an organized way. You have 7 utilized having individuals just contacting 8 Navigant with questions. So if you want to 9 develop something consistent with the Open
10 Meetings Act and look at specific questions, 11 that can be done.

12 The other question was something
13 about the cost to the state if nothing is done 14 to change. I think what you're referring to is 15 Section 10(F) of the Act. Asks for your report 16 to include the projected cost to the State of 17 the Illinois over the next 20 years if no 18 changes are made in the present system of 19 delivering and paying for long-term care
20 services. I think you may be comparing that 21 with that provision. There is nothing in 22 Navigant's contract on this point. We are 23 handling this in another way to get you that 24 information but it wasn't through Navigant.

1 And then just miscellaneous
2 information, yes, that family of four federal 3 poverty, the level the feds come out with that 4 every spring, and in 2006 the family of four was 5 $20,000.

6 MS. MITROFF: That's 400 percent.

7 MR. CARVALHO: I'm sorry. 400 percent
8 is $20,000.

9 And then I checked with the 10 person who puts transcripts up on the web and 11 the ones that aren't up there -- there are some 12 up there now. And the ones that aren't there 13 should be up there tomorrow. Just follow the 14 navigation. Our front page has the task force 15 to the link there and go to the -- where it says 16 task force and you will see the links to your 17 summaries, as well as your transcripts.

18 DR. LERNER: I have talked to Dave and 19 Dave over the last few days. I personally am 20 less concerned about timing and much more 21 concerned about a good product out of this 22 working group. And so if we have to extend 23 ourselves yet another month to the extent that 24 we have physical support for this or some other

1 way of doing it, then we should do that.

2 But I don't think we are that far
3 away with coming up with an outstanding product.
4 There's a lot of details that have to be dealt 5 with. So I want to take the time frame issues 6 out of the equation.

7 There's a motion on the table and 8 it's been seconded. Any questions or comments?

9 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: I guess before we 10 adjourn in terms of turning it over to the 11 steering committee, a couple of questions and a 12 concern about process that you all would entail.

13 I guess a thought of mine is, you 14 know, what is a possibility and I would like to 15 ask this question to the persons from Navigant
16 and Mathematica of taking it into consideration 17 all the comments that you have before you and 18 tweaking the plan based on those comments.

19 Is that, you know, a realistic
20 task for you? A lot of the comments are similar 21 but is that realistic for you?

22 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: I think that 23 because some of them are so in direct conflict 24 of each other, you know, that we -- that is kind

1 of how we get to these various options. So I 2 think we need some better guidance as to what 3 you want to seek. When there's two opposing 4 sides, you really want to see all of that.

5 And I think the second issue is 6 that some of these points identified the need 7 for very significant additional detailed 8 analysis, and then I have also heard comments 9 and suggestions maybe that level of detail is 10 too much. So certainly we need some additional 11 clarification, I think, before we can move any 12 further.

13 DR. LUBIN-JOHNSON: And my second 14 comment would be that Dr. learner, yes, I'm in 15 agreement with you that another month, you know, 16 I don't think it's going to cost us anything but 17 I would -- you know, not to mean to have any 18 bias, but my State Senator is sitting on my left 19 and I would go along with his sentiments that I 20 would hope we could come out of this with 21 something to produce in the not too distant 22 future meaning --

23 DR. LERNER: I am right with you.

24 Jim said it appropriately. I

1 think we have moved the flag forward. I believe 2 we are still moving the flag forward and we just 3 have a little ways to go. But it's the hard 4 yards.

5 Any other questions or comments?
6 The motion and the second is on the table.

7 Hearing none, all those in favor
8 please say aye.

9 RESPONSE: Aye.

10 DR. LERNER: Opposed, no.
11 Abstentions.

12 (No response.)

13 DR. LERNER: We need about ten minutes
14 to reorganize the room and then the steering 15 committee will get back together. Thank you 16 very much.
